PROPOSES NEW EGG CO-OP HERE; USE FACILITIES OF CLOSED FIRM

The possibility of establishing a new egg cooperative to use the facilities of the present one was outlined Thursday evening at a meeting of 65 Adams county egg cooperative members at the court house.

W. Clayton Jester, Biglerville star route, a member of a committee named to call a session of the more than 400 members of the Adams County Cooperative Egg association, said: "We have two choices. Either let the cooperative go bankrupt or come up with a plan for a new cooperative and get back into business."

Jester polled the members on whether the cooperative should be declared bankrupt. It was voted down. He then presented a plan by which 300 egg producers would each sign a note for $100 as a guarantor for a new cooperative. If those signatures can be obtained, $30,000 can be loaned the proposed new egg cooperative, he said.

Use Old Facilities
If a new cooperative can be set up, with a new board of directors, it would use the facilities of the present egg cooperative and would pay one cent a dozen to the present cooperative as a rental. From that one-cent a dozen fund, the officers and members of the present cooperative would eventually pay off the approximately $118,000 owed by the present cooperative.

A number of those present signed notes as guarantors at Thursday's meeting. A number volunteered to take notes with them to seek to interest other farmer-producers.

Jester reported that some banks and some other creditors have expressed their willingness to continue with present cooperative and grant a "moratorium" on present debt payments to ascertain what can be worked out.

Oppose Third Plan
One of those present at Thursday's session presented a proposal that a group be set up to send local eggs to a New Jersey concern, which he said was willing to purchase them at a price comparable to that received from a cooperative. Under that plan, he said, the present cooperative would be forced into bankruptcy. That plan was voted down. Some of the farmers said that they do not wish to permit a loss to present creditors of the cooperative.

Urges Early Action
A meeting of the board of directors of the present closed cooperative was held following the producers' meeting. At that session the group authorized Attorney Edward B. Bulleit to report to the creditors committee on the action shown at the meeting, and decision was made to meet again December 28 to determine the success of the campaign to secure guarantors for the proposed new cooperative.

Jester, who acted as presiding officer for the meeting, pointed out that "if we decide to have a new cooperative we should act now while the facilities of the old cooperative are available. It will cost us more to set up a new establishment if we wait until later when possibly the present facilities of the cooperative have been sold and the building converted to some other use."

PRESENT XMAS CANTATA DEC. 16 IN BIGLERVILLE

A Christmas cantata, "The Child of Bethlehem," by Louise E. Stairs, will be presented by the choir of St. Paul's Lutheran church, Biglerville, Sunday evening at 7:30 o'clock at the church under the direction of Prof. C. L. Yost.

The following program will be presented:
"Hark! What Means Those Holy Voices," chorus, soprano and alto duet; "How Beautiful on the Mountains," baritone recitative, Kenneth Lawler; "Break Forth Into Joy," chorus, soprano solo, Mrs. C. L. Yost, baritone solo, Clair Settle; "His Name Shall Be Called Emmanuel," contralto recitative, Mrs. William Wentzel; "The Spirit of the Lord," chorus, tenor solo, Daniel Ebbert; "Star of the East," tenor solo and chorus, Earl Crum; "And There Were Shepherds," contralto solo and chorus, Julia Yost.

Other Program Numbers
"And Suddenly There Was with the Angel," soprano recitative, Mrs. Wilmer Diehl; "Glory to God in the Highest," chorus; "Cradle Song," (Please Turn to Page 2)

Consecrate Gifts At Christmas Party

A brass cross and two candlesticks were consecrated Thursday afternoon by Dr. Ralph R. Gresh at the Beginners' Christmas party in the social room of St. James Lutheran church at 2 o'clock. They were given to the church by Miss Bell Schuh, Toledo, Ohio, in memory of her nephew, five-year-old Harold Frederick Schuh, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Schuh, Hanover road, who died last year of leukemia. Dr. Gresh explained to the four- and five-year-olds that the cross and candlesticks would be placed upon their altar in a special room reserved for children's services.

The small guests gathered about a tree where they sang "Little Baby Jesus" and "Born in a Manger." They also delivered several Christmas recitations. After the program, ice cream and candy were served and each child received a book and an orange.

MAY NAME TOWN PERMANENT SITE FOR USWV MEET

Gettysburg may become the permanent annual meeting place of the United Spanish War Veterans, Department of Pennsylvania, James Eames, Erie, department commander, told members of the Sgt. William M. Steffy Camp No. 126 of Gettysburg and its auxiliary at a meeting Thursday night at the VFW home, Carlisle street.

Making his official visit to the local organization, Mr. Eames said that the question of meeting annually in Gettysburg would be decided at the department convention here next June. He spoke before a meeting of the camp and later a joint meeting of the camp and auxiliary.

Asks For Cooperation
Appealing for cooperation from members of the two organizations and the residents of Gettysburg, Mr. Eames said he felt sure this cooperation would be forthcoming and that delegates to the convention would be impressed by the good will and treatment shown them next June.

"The United Spanish War Veterans succeeded the Grand Army of the Republic as the senior veterans' organization," Mr. Eames declared. "Whatever is done for their convenience and welfare during the coming convention will be appreciated."

Mr. Eames was introduced by Charles T. Ziegler, Springs avenue, commander of the local camp.

Party For Children
Members of both organizations and their children and grandchildren enjoyed a Christmas party and entertainment following the business meeting. Paul Osborn, Biglerville, presented a number of motion pictures on the Christmas theme. Younger children recited poems and sang songs. Santa Claus appeared and distributed candy and oranges and gave each present a gift. Refreshments were served.

Commander Ziegler presided at the camp's business meeting and Mrs. William Baldwin, West Water street, president of the auxiliary, presided at the auxiliary meeting.

Band To Provide Music For Dance

The Blue and Gray band of Gettysburg will furnish an orchestra at the teenage dance to be held at the Moose home on York street Thursday, December 20.

At the same time the band will hold drawings for the television set and other prizes which are being offered in order to build up the fund to purchase new and more appropriate uniforms.

SNOW BLANKETS VICINITY TODAY

Officially winter won't be here for a week, but by all outward signs it had at least had a temporary, "try-out," residence here today. At 2 o'clock about an inch and a half of snow had fallen.

State highway department crews started cinderling the highways shortly after 1 o'clock this afternoon. Most hazardous conditions, the department reported, were over Mt. Newman and along the Biglerville-Gettysburg road. Most cars were merely creeping along to avoid skidding or serious crashes.

During the early morning the thermometer dropped to 13 degrees, lowest this winter. Previous low was 16 degrees recorded on November 21 and 28.

Most people were recalling, with pleasure, last Friday when the thermometer stood at a comfortable 70 degrees.

Prize-Winning Biglerville Float

One of the outstanding floats in the Biglerville Christmas parade was the one entered by the Ira Lady post of the American Legion. The third place winner in the float competition showed Roger Hoffnagle as a wounded soldier in Korea receiving plasma from a medic, Earle Eker (with arm band), while another medic, Wilmer Diehl, looks on and a chaplain, James Cover (kneeling at left), reads from a New Testament. Bryant Roe was driver for the float, operating a tractor owned by James Shetter. Eugene Rouzer provided the trailer.

FOUR CHOIRS TO COMBINE FOR CAROL SERVICE

The choirs of the Trinity Reformed, Methodist United Brethren and Presbyterian churches will combine to sing in a special service of Christmas carols, Sunday evening at 7:30 o'clock in the Presbyterian church.

Old, familiar carols will be sung by the choirs and the congregation. Other less familiar carols will be sung by the choirs. Included in this group are "I Hear Along Our Street" by MacKinnon; "Joseph Came Seeking a Resting Place," by Willoughby; "The Christ Child's Visit," by Erickson; "As Late as We Watched," an Austrian carol; "Softly the Stars Were Shining," by Torovsky, and "Ding-Dong! Merrily on High," an old French carol.

The prophecy and the Christmas story will be read by the participating ministers, the Rev. Harold V. March of the United Brethren church; Dr. Howard S. Fox of the Reformed church; Dr. Harold A. Dunkelberger, supply-minister of the Methodist church, and the Rev. Clyde R. Brown of the Presbyterian church.

The program has been arranged by the organizers and choir directors of the four churches: Elmira S. Deardoff, Jean Little, Alice Snyder and Phillip McGuire.

The public is invited to attend the service.

HEIDLSBURG U. B. CHURCH TO HAVE XMAS FETE

A Christmas program will be presented by the Heidlsburg United Brethren church Sunday evening, December 23, at 7:45 o'clock at the church.

Among recitations to be offered by beginners are pieces entitled "He's The One," by Ruth Ann Davis; "When I Have A Birthday," by Pamela Spittal; "A Secret," by Deborah Hoffman. Carolyn Starry, Cynthia Zepp and Arlene Davis, attired as elderly women, will recite "We Are Wee Ladies." Carolyn Starry and Deborah Hoffman will sing a duet entitled "A Little Duet."

In the primary group, Brenda Grove will recite a poem titled "Christ's Birthday Gift." Hazel Straub will offer "It Isn't What You Get." Brenda Grove and Hazel Straub will narrate "A Verse For Christmas." Another poem of the program will be "The Birth of Jesus" to be delivered by Mary Ann Harman.

To Present Pantomime

A legend will be narrated in the junior group by Shirley Davis. One of the highlights of this group will be the pantomime entitled "Lights

Plan Xmas Program At Local UB Church

The Christmas pageant, "A New Light in the Town," will be presented in the Memorial Evangelical United Brethren church on Sunday, December 23, at 7:30 p.m., by the following cast: Daniel March, Mrs. Lester Dengler, Allen Slonaker, Ronald Heffer, Fred Sanders, Samuel Heffer, Roger Miller, Joel Korver, Mrs. John Cluck, John Cluck, Albert Treher, Freddie Snyder and a group of carolers.

Instead of the regular devotional program in the Sunday school at 9:30 a.m., the children of the Sunday School will present a Christmas program.

The church will hold its regular candlelight service on Christmas Eve beginning at 11 o'clock.

AREA FFA BOYS LEAD STATE IN FARM PROJECTS

Nine Adams county boys will be awarded Keystone Farmer degrees at the state farm show in January. Richard C. Lighter, county agricultural education supervisor, announced today.

The nine were among those from throughout the state selected at a meeting of agricultural education supervisors held at State College this week. Out of 14 FFA youths in the Adams-Franklin county area whose names were submitted for the honor, 12 were accepted. Nine were from Adams county.

The county youths who will receive the award January 16 at Harrisburg include Russell Wertz, Lawrence Showers and David Metzner, all of Biglerville; Harmon Millhimes and Kenneth Nace, of New Oxford; and Wayne Spence, Kenneth Williams, Ray Weatherly and Donald Dillon, all of Gettysburg. Wertz was also named as delegate to the state convention of the FFA from Adams county.

Area Leads State
Twenty-five Adams county youths placed within the first 20 in project book judgments held in connection with the meeting of the state agricultural supervisors at Penn State. The Adams-Franklin area won first place among all areas in the state for the number of members who won places in the state project contest. Awards will be presented at the farm show. Those who placed within the first five in each event will receive gold medals; second five, silver medals; third five, bronze medals (Please Turn to Page 2)

Seeing Eye Dog, Faithful For 12 Years, Is Going Blind

Montclair, N. J., Dec. 14 (AP)—A 13-year-old seeing-eye dog who faithfully served his master for 12 years is himself going blind and will spend the rest of his days with nothing to do but relax.

The gentle German shepherd dog, Mat, acted as the eyes for Harold Trowbridge, blind proprietor of a Montclair news store. Trowbridge removed Mat's harness Wednesday and officially retired him.

But Trowbridge won't replace his trusted friend—instead, he will use cabs or human guides to help him when he travels.

About replacing Mat, Trowbridge

DANGERS FROM EXPLOSIVES ARE TOLD BY EXPERT

"Ammunition or explosives are safe until you forget that they are dangerous," Howard D. Williams, Gettysburg, explosives expert at the Letterkenny ordnance depot, told members of the Fire Chiefs Association of Adams county in a talk at the December meeting of the organization Thursday night in the fire hall at Aspers.

"Explosives in transit, whether by truck or rail, are marked," he said. "Placards are placed on the truck or freight car which identify the type. Type A, the most dangerous, is labeled 'explosives,' while type B carries a card, 'dangerous.' Firemen should first identify the type from these cards if they are called to a fire where explosives are involved, or to an accident similar to the one in Bonneauville where a truck carrying 22,000 pounds of TNT tipped over," he said.

Danger From Fire

"TNT is the basis of a lot of military explosives," Mr. Williams said. "That at Bonneauville was the raw stuff, in flake form. It had been 'recovered' at the ordnance depot, purchased by Dupont, and was being shipped to Delaware."

In the Bonneauville incident, Mr. Williams said, once the movement of the overturned truck stopped, 50 percent of the danger was over, but more than 100 gallons of gasoline spilled, and he added that a carelessly tossed match or cigarette could have set this afire.

"TNT has a melting point between 176 and 180 degrees," Mr. Williams said. "It won't mix with water, and it will burn, but the danger is in its confinement. At Bonneauville, if the gasoline had caught fire, the entire population of the town should have been evacuated. If the truckload of TNT had exploded, it would have wiped out the entire town."

Keep Public Away
Firemen, Mr. Williams said, should wet down the area to prevent the gasoline igniting, and keep persons away from the vicinity where a carelessly tossed cigarette might start a fire. This was done at Bonneauville, he said. Firemen should not have been criticized for risking a valuable piece of fire apparatus, he added.

"Their duty is the protection of life and property. In possibly risking a $16,000 fire truck, they were protecting property worth many times this amount."

Rites Monday For Mrs. Albert Kindig

Funeral services for Mrs. Albert H. Kindig, 73, Littlestown, who died Monday at the Warner hospital, will be held Monday at 2 p.m. at the Little funeral home, Littlestown, conducted by her pastor, the Rev. David S. Kammerer, pastor of St. Paul's Lutheran church, Littlestown. Interment in Mt. Carmel cemetery, Littlestown.

Friends may call at the funeral home Sunday evening from 7 to 9 o'clock.

The delay in arrangements was due to efforts being made to have a son, Maj. John A. Kindig, now serving in Korea, granted a leave to come home. No leave has been granted as yet.

REV. N. R. FRANTZ NAMED HEAD OF C. H. AUXILIARY

Rev. Nevin R. Frantz, pastor of the Arendtsville Reformed church, was elected president of the Auxiliary of the Adams County home Thursday afternoon at a meeting held at the home. He succeeds Richard Summer, seminary student.

Mrs. Clarence C. Smith was named vice president; Mrs. Garnet Coble, Aspers, secretary and Mrs. Lester Davis, treasurer. The new officers will assume their positions at the January 10 meeting.

The November birthday party at the home was held by Christ Lutheran church of Gettysburg. An alarm clock and an electric clock were donated for use of the residents of the home by the Reformed church of Gettysburg.

To Donate Mirrors

The Trinity club plans to donate 80 mirrors. It was reported that the Student Christian association is conducting a worship service at the home every other week and providing students to read to some of the guests each week. The SCA also plans to start a crafts program at the home in the near future, according to reports presented at Thursday's meeting.

Mrs. William Sundermyer announced that movies will be shown at the home weekly from January through May through the cooperation of college students who will act as projectionists. Up to the present time movies have been shown every other week.

A discussion on changes to the constitution of the auxiliary concluded the meeting at which President Summer presided.

XMAS TABLEAU PRESENTED BY NCCW THURSDAY

A nativity tableau was presented by the St. Francis Xavier parish council of the National Council of Catholic Women Thursday evening at the church at a Christmas meeting of the group.

The Bethlehem scene was portrayed by Mrs. Robert Oyer, representing the Blessed Virgin Mary, Mrs. Richard C. Eberhart, depicting St. Joseph, and Miss Mary Louise Callahan, in the role of an angel. A background of music was provided by a junior choral group of girls from Delone and Gettysburg high schools who sang "O Holy Night" at the first representation of the scene and "Silent Night" at the close. Other selections offered by the young singers, who were attired in white gowns, were: "Beautiful Saviour," "What Is The Meaning?" "Rise Up Shepherd An' Follow," "The Darkness Is Falling" and "Angels We Have Heard On High."

The carolers included: The Misses Ann Jacobs, Meredith Derck, Teresa Hemler, Patricia Bushey, Ann Haenn, Rosemarie Redding, Kay Coleman, Charmaine Schrade, Diana Derck, Nancy Ramer, Gloria Klunk and Beatrice Bagot. The singers, who were under the direction of Mrs. Robert Derck, were accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Richard S. Codori.

Reads Xmas Legend

Another highlight of the program was the reading of a Christmas legend entitled "The Well of the Star" by Mrs. Edwin J. Killalea. The author of the story is the well-known novelist Elizabeth Goudge.

The Rev. Anthony F. Kane, council moderator, explained, "God's love for us is expressed clearly by the Nativity which is a tremendous act of love for mankind. . . . He also remarked that "in this season of love we should show more charity towards our fellow man."

Mrs. George L. Haenn, president, presided at the business meeting. The treasurer's and secretary's reports were given and Mrs. Haenn thanked those who had contributed to the Korean clothing drive held in November. Several donations were voted to local organizations among which was a $10 special contribution (Please Turn to Page 2)

Reds Agree To 5,000 Rotation Troops Per Month, But Refuse To Lift Prison Camp Curtain

Seoul, Korea, Dec. 14 (AP)—Red anti-aircraft guns shot down three Allied planes today while MIG-killing American Sabre jets destroyed one Communist jet and damaged three.

The U. S. Fifth Air Force said all the Sabres returned safely from their two jet fights over northwest Korea.

So did two reconnaissance F-80 Shooting Stars that were jumped by six Red MIG-15s near the North Korean capital, Pyongyang. The F-80s outmaneuvered and outflowed the Red pilots in the much faster MIGs.

Fall Behind Lines

In unrelated actions Red flak brought down a Shooting Star, an F-84 Thunderjet and an F-51 Mustang. All three fell in Communist territory.

Fifth Air Force planes flew 663 sorties up to 6 p.m., chopping up Communist transport lines.

Friday's two jet battles came less than 24 hours after the American Sabre pilots scored their greatest all jet victory—13 Red jets downed, two probably destroyed and one damaged.

In a 25 minute battle Friday morning between 48 Sabres and more than 100 MIGs, one Red jet was shot down and two damaged. Another Red was damaged in an afternoon scrap.

Ships Blast Shore

The Friday morning flash of action emphasized the current leading role of the air in the Korean war.

Warships and carrier planes hammered at the edges of North Korea. But the ground troops stuck closely to their defense lines.

For the third day the U. S. Eighth Army sent out a raiding party to hit Communist positions, but this did not change the basic defensive characteristic of the fronts.

A Friday morning raid hit northwest of Korangpo near the 38th parallel on the western front. A Red platoon was routed. The raiders retired to their own lines as they did on the two preceding days.

Extra Hours, Extra Help At Post Office

Extra hours and extra help will be employed to handle the already mounting volume of Christmas mail at the Gettysburg post office.

Today Postmaster Lawrence E. Oyer announced that the stamp windows will be kept open until 4 p.m. on Saturday for the convenience of patrons. The windows usually close at noon Saturdays. The volume of business will decide later whether extra hours also will be observed on the Saturday before Christmas, he said.

Next Monday morning 16 extra employees—10 carriers, four clerks and two parcel post deliverymen—will begin work. They will continue throughout next week and as long thereafter as is necessary. Usually the need for extra help continues until the day after Christmas, Postmaster Oyer pointed out.

The flow of mail this week at the local post office was described as "very heavy." Parcel post forms a large part of the extra mail matter. Letter mail will reach its peak next week, it is expected.

The list of extra helpers to go to work Monday follows:

Clerks—David W. Woods, Clair R. Kime, John W. Nuss and William M. Slee.

Carriers—Mervin S. Eyer, Bernard C. Frazer, Francis F. Frew, Eugene R. McVicker, Ray S. Lauer, Elwood W. Dietz, Charles M. Polley, John G. Rummel, William G. Seagraves and E. Richard Hartlaub.

PLAN PARTY ON CHRISTMAS DAY

The Dorsey-Stanton American Legion Post and Auxiliary will sponsor a Christmas party for children Christmas afternoon from 3 until 6 o'clock at the post home, West High street.

There will be music, entertainment, refreshments, and Santa Claus will present gifts to the children.

The committee comprises: Mrs. Julia Jones, Mrs. Hazel Saunders, Miss Rosetta Wansel, Miss Priscilla Carter, Joseph Wansel, James Mauston, and William Tonsel.

REPORTS BIKE STOLEN

Rolf Johnson, 309 North Stratton street, reported to borough police Thursday afternoon that his Red Columbia bicycle was stolen from the high school grounds.

Washington, Dec. 14 (AP)—The United States has alerted three nations—Sweden, Norway and Switzerland—that they may be proposed as members of "non-belligerent" inspection teams in event of an armistice in Korea.

Munsan, Korea, Dec. 14 (AP)—The Reds flatly refused today to lift the curtain of secrecy surrounding their prison camps, but said they would okeh the rotation of 5,000 troops a month if the Allies accept other Communist terms for enforcing a Korean truce.

The limited rotation plan was part of a new six-point Communist proposal which made little impression on Allied negotiators. An official U.N. communique made no mention of rotation and said the proposals showed "little significant departure from the unacceptable proposal of December 3."

Ask Sweden's Aid
In Stockholm, the Swedish foreign office said the U.S. had asked if Sweden would join a neutral inspection commission to help police a Korean truce. It said Sweden has made no decision.

Negotiators have not agreed on how an armistice would be enforced. The Allies have indicated they might accept a Communist proposal to use representatives of neutral nations for behind-the-lines inspections.

Red delegates said International Red Cross inspection of Communist prison camps was "out of the question."

They again refused to turn over lists of Allied prisoners unless the U.N. command first accepts the Communist idea of exchanging all prisoners. Rear Adm. R. E. Libby wanted to know why. He asked:

Questions Number Of Prisoners
"Is it because your list contains just a handful of names and you are ashamed to give it to us?"

The Reds complained the great majority of prisoners held by the U.N. would not be returned if an exchange were made on a man-for-man basis as the Allies want.

A U.N. spokesman called the Communist's remark a slip. Brig. Gen. William P. Nuckols, official Allied spokesman, said the rotation of 5,000 troops a month, as proposed by the Communists, would be well below the current American rotation level.

An Allied negotiator said the while Red proposal will be studied carefully "for any gimmicks it might contain."

The two subcommittees working on the problems of supervising a truce and exchanging prisoners—agenda items three and four—scheduled new sessions for 11 a.m. Saturday (9 p.m. EST Friday) in Panmunjom.

Allied negotiators insisted again Friday that the Reds turn over data on prisoners they hold and permit Red Cross inspection of their prison camps before talking further of exchanging prisoners.

Before the session adjourned Libby asked the Reds a series of searching questions:

Emmitsburg

PRESBYTERIANS' PASTOR RESIGNS

The Rev. Charles S. Owen presented his resignation as minister of the Emmitsburg, Taneytown and Piney Creek Presbyterian churches last Sunday.

In presenting his resignation the Rev. Mr. Owen said: "I do so with deep regret and happy memories. I have served these churches longer than most of the past ministers and you have been very kind and patient and gracious."

The Presbytery of Baltimore at its December meeting held Tuesday in Baltimore announced that Rev. Charles S. Owens was officially granted a release from the Presbytery and transferred to the Steuben-Elmira Presbytery in the Synod of New York, where he will move with his family after December 31 and become the minister of the churches located at Atlanta and Cohocton, N. Y. The Rev. Mr. Owen has served the three Maryland churches for ten years. He will leave each of the three churches with considerably larger memberships and all the church property much improved and in excellent repair.

A new pipe organ has recently been installed in the Emmitsburg church and a parish house was erected during the pastorate at the Piney Creek church. Rev. Mr. and Mrs. Owen and their two children have resided at the Presbyterian manse in Taneytown during the last 10 years.

The high school cafeteria was decorated in the traditional holiday theme. Carols were sung and refreshments were served. The members of the social committee included: Mrs. Kenneth G. Reinhart, Mrs. William Swisher, Mrs. Donald Joseph, also the Misses MaBelle Herter, Shirley Young and Betty Brandon. Others were Richard Krick, Donald Ulrich, Ross Sachs and Fred Troxell.

News Of Countians In Armed Forces

Pfc. Richard L. Unger, AF-13390678, is receiving his mail 11th Med. Squadron, Carswell AFB, Ft. Worth, Texas.

Pfc. John W. Strickhouser is now receiving his mail AF 13367116, 1810 AACF Sgd., APO 953, Care of postmaster San Francisco, Calif.

TRADING CAUTIOUS

New York, Dec. 14 (AP)—A modest advance in the stock market today was held in check by scattered losses. Trading was cautious. Prices got ahead by fractions to around a point at times, but losses of equal size dotted the list. Utilities were in demand, usually at higher prices. Also higher were rubbers, aircrafts, air lines and chemicals.

HOME FROM HONEYMOON

Mr. and Mrs. Joel R. Korver, who were married November 25, have returned from their honeymoon which they spent in Maryland, West Virginia, Virginia and Washington, D. C. They are now living at their farm at New Oxford R. 2. Mrs. Korver is the former Miss Ruth E. Kime, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lester Kime, New Oxford R. 2.

DANGERS FROM

plosives are given thorough instructions, he said, and in the event of a fire or accident, should stand by, and direct firemen or others in what to do. Because Adams county is a rural area, and because explosives in transit are routed through rural areas and away from larger communities, more explosives are apt to be shipped over its highways than in other sections, he said.

Seek Protection

Mr. Williams said that in fighting fire in a load of ammunition, firemen should have a building, wall, ditch or embankment between them and the fire as precaution against flying missiles.

In discussing fires where poisonous gas is present, the speaker said that here also the entire population of a town should be evacuated to the "windward" side. "Poisonous gases could cause as much damage as explosives, or more so," he said. Nitrates in concentrated form are extremely dangerous, he declared, in answer to a question, but the type used in agriculture is not. Dynamite used on farms presents another hazard, however, if the building housing it catches fire. It should be stored away from other buildings, he said.

John Murren, Centennial, president of the chiefs' association, presided at the meeting, at which the principal business transacted was the adoption of a constitution and bylaws. Refreshments were served following the meeting. The next meeting will be held at the Barlow fire hall on January 3.

Social Happenings

Phone Gettysburg 1006, 640 or 725 — After 7 P. M., 751-Y

The Sunday school class, No. 40, of the St. James Lutheran church, will hold its annual Christmas party Monday evening at 8 o'clock at the church. This is the class taught by Mrs. E. J. Bowman.

Officers were elected for 1952 at a meeting of the Ladies' Aid society of the St. Mark's Reformed church, Baltimore road, Wednesday evening at the Lahn home near Two Taverns. The following were named: President, Mrs. Ralph Schuchart; vice president, Mrs. Myrtle Hoffman; secretary, Mrs. L. U. Collins; treasurer, Mrs. Harry King; flower-committee, Mrs. Mervin Boyd and Mrs. Milton Snyder.

Secret Sisters were revealed and others chosen for the coming year. As this was a Christmas meeting, a program of songs, readings and stories was presented appropriate to the season of Noel. Contests and quiz games were conducted for which prizes were given.

There was an auction of articles brought by the members and an exchange of gifts. Refreshments were served to eighteen members and guests.

Mrs. Clyde Williams, Jr., Carlisle street, and Mrs. Clyde Williams, Hanover street, spent Thursday in York.

A turkey dinner was held Thursday evening by the Mite society of St. James Lutheran church in the social hall at 6:30 o'clock. Table decorations consisted of candles and pine and at each place were red and green candy apple favors with colored lollypops attached. Mrs. Daisy Wierman was chairman of the decorations committee and the program. Mrs. William Conover was in charge of dinner arrangements. Mrs. Ralph R. Gresh read several Christmas poems and the invocation was given by Dr. Gresh. Gifts were exchanged and carols were sung.

Yugoslavian songs and dances were learned by Brownie Troop No. 23 at a meeting Thursday afternoon at the St. James Lutheran church at 3:30 o'clock. Mrs. Gordon Webster is the leader of this troop and her assistant is Mrs. Lavere C. Hamme. Patty Weaver was the acting officer of the day. Next Thursday the Brownies will hold their Christmas party at the church at 3:30 p.m. where they will exchange ten cent gifts.

Dr. and Mrs. Frank H. Kramer, West Broadway, will leave Sunday to join Dr. and Mrs. Henry W. A. Hanson at Sea Isle, Ga., for the Christmas holidays.

The Ladies' Aid Society of St. Luke's Lutheran church, White Hall, held a Yuletide party Wednesday evening in the church Sunday school room at 7 o'clock. Devotional services were offered by the pastor, Rev. O. E. Feeman. He also conducted the singing of Christmas carols. Miss Doris Good, Littlestown R. D., presided at the piano. A Christmas solo was given by Rev. Mr. Feeman. Refreshments were served. Gifts were exchanged among the members. Before the party, a business session was held with Mrs. John Hartlaub, president, presiding.

The Bandar Log club will meet Tuesday evening with Mrs. Norman Richardson, East Lincoln avenue.

The Ladies' Aid society of Grace Lutheran church, Two Taverns, held its annual Christmas party Tuesday evening at 7:30 o'clock in the parish hall. Rev. O. E. Feeman, pastor, presided over the devotional services and the singing of carols. Miss Viola Sachs read "The Christmas Rose" and Miss Janet King offered another reading reflecting the Yuletide theme.

Miss Nancy Trostle, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Trostle, Gettysburg R. 1, entertained the group with a ballet dance. Santa Claus presented each guest a gift of candy and oranges. Gifts were exchanged and refreshments served. Mrs. Merle Weikert, Gettysburg R. D., presided at the piano.

Before the social hour there was a short business session conducted by Mrs. Charles Trostle, president of the society.

Mrs. Viola Crook and Mrs. Andrew Kmeick and son, Andrew, Jr., who attended the funeral of Mrs. Crook's father, Calvin Andrew, on Wednesday, have returned to their home in Trenton, N. J.

Girl Scout Troop No. 37 met Thursday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock at Christ Lutheran church under the leadership of Mrs. Robert Ditchburn. The meeting opened with the allegiance to the flag, the scout promise and one stanza of "America." Christmas carols were sung and the girls made holiday gifts for their fathers. Mrs. Paul Snyder, committeewoman, assisted. Mrs. Ditchburn. The troop will hold its Christmas party next Thursday afternoon in the church social rooms. There will be a special program including the exchange of gifts and refreshments. The meeting closed with taps and the singing of the "Good Night" song. Last Wednesday the troop went caroling after which the scouts met at Mrs. Ditchburn's home, North Washington street, for hot chocolate, cookies and candy.

HEARSE SKIDS; TWO INJURED

A Chambersburg undertaker and a Gettysburg college student were injured when a hearse skidded across the Lincoln highway three miles east of here at 12:30 o'clock this afternoon.

The undertaker, Robert Barbour, Chambersburg, suffered nose injuries. He was treated at Chambersburg.

Barbour said he was transporting the body of a Columbia woman in the hearse to Chambersburg when he was blinded by the snowstorm. The hearse ran off the north berm of the road, and then skidded across the highway, missing a passing car, and into the path of a car driven east by David Hamme, 20, York R. 9, a college student. The car and hearse collided head on, and the hearse then skidded down an embankment.

Hamme suffered a laceration of the left eyelid, abrasions of both knees and the left arm. He was treated at the Warner hospital here.

The front ends of the vehicles were badly damaged. State police are investigating.

The Bender funeral home here removed the body from the hearse and transported it to Chambersburg. The hearse was towed to a local garage.

BALTIMORE WOMAN HURT

Mrs. Harry Dolle, 61, 731 Lyndhurst street, Baltimore, was admitted as a patient at the Warner hospital this afternoon after being injured when the car in which she and her husband were riding skidded on the highway. Mr. Dolle was only slightly injured. The extent of Mrs. Dolle's injuries and details of the accident were unavailable at press time.

COURT HOUSE PARTY

The annual Christmas party for court house employees was held Thursday afternoon at the court house. John D. Lippy, Jr., presented a magic act. Miss Viola Sachs led group singing. C. Arthur Brame was chairman of the entertainment committee. The general chairman for the event were Miss Marian Menchey and Mrs. Thalia Clapper.

HOSPITAL REPORT

Admissions: Mrs. Edward Howarth, Taneytown, and Mrs. Calvin Stottlemeyer, Littlestown R. 1. There were no discharges.

A son was born Thursday at the hospital to Mr. and Mrs. Edward Howarth, Taneytown.

IF THERE is a woman in your life, perchance there is also a gift on your mind for the lovely lady now that the season of mistletoe and magic has arrived! Ease your mind at once, however, for whatever she would have, the shops in town have it.

Does she like color? Do drop in at the Mademoiselle Shoppe, Chambersburg street, and see the lovely scarfs by Kimball . . . and while you are there, take a look at the party purses in black velvet and silk for her holiday dancing . . . lounging pajamas in gold, aqua and white for her fireside leisure call for a second glance . . . slips by "Miss Swank" are practically a "must" on your junior miss list . . . gay holiday dresses you will not have the heart to pass up for holiday-minded daughter or mother . . . Select several blouses by Trobore and perhaps a Bryn Mawr classic or two for that chic young college lass . . . and what fair lady in your home would disdain to own a smart sweater suit in spicy shades of gold, purple, green or coral?

Would she have lovely lingerie? Browse a bit in the Modern Miss Shop, Chambersburg street, and you will be amazed at the exquisite assortment of Seampurfe rayon and nylon slips . . . you know that she will treasure a Luxite nylon slip or gown in delicate rainbow tints like orchid, pink, pale blue (they also come in cloud-white) . . . for the sophisticated lady will select a satin pajama set in black satin and gold paisley design . . . metallic dusters will offer you the unusual if you would be original . . . and for the young lady going back to college (all holidays must end) let her take back a silk, quilted house coat in old gold, aqua or royal blue, as something to remember you by . . . and for the busy mother, consider a cotton quilted house coat patterned in gay floral designs for those early breakfasts.

She may be dreaming up a troussseau. If so—visit Anna Bierer's Specialty Shop, Carlisle street, and see heaps of gossamer thin, petal-soft gowns and slips by Barblizon . . . Duchess . . . Corette . . . and Kayser.

Urge Big Flat For New Air Force Base

Shippensburg, a, Dec. 14 (AP)—This small Franklin county community sought consideration today as the site for a proposed $64 million air force base in eastern Pennsylvania. The base would serve as a companion installation to the Olmsted Air Base at Middletown, Pa. Wilber Goodhart, Shippensburg businessman, has proposed to the air force that the base be established at Big Flat on South mountain about five miles south of here.

The air force was requested more detailed information concerning the proposed Shippensburg area site.

The base was originally planned for construction in Lancaster county near Olmsted Field, but protests by farmers sidetracked those plans. Since that time more than half a dozen other sites have been considered.

to the County Home, Harrisburg road.

The Council has adopted an eleven year old orphan girl from the Sylvan Heights home for a year. Other projects include plans to make infants' garments for the Holy Father's storehouse and to purchase flowers for the altar at St. Francis church during the Christmas season.

Members bring Gifts
A social hour followed during which there was an exchange of holiday remembrances among the members. Refreshments consisted of a covered dish supper and the favors were pine sprays and Christmas bells. The table was decorated with red and white candles and sprigs of pine. A white milk glass sleigh filled with multi-colored holiday balls formed the centerpiece.

Each member brought a gift "for the Christ Child to be included in the Holy Father's storehouse collection for orphans."

Among the guests was the Rev. Fr. Stanley Laurinitis, assistant pastor.

The tableau presentation was under the direction of Mrs. Lawrence H. Eckert, Jr., chairman of the Shrines in the Homes committee.

BIRTH ANNOUNCEMENTS

Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Stottlemeyer, Littlestown R. 1, announce the birth of a son at the Warner hospital today.

The young people's Ever Faithful Sunday school class of the Heidlersburg United Brethren church will meet at the church Monday evening, December 24, to pack boxes of Christmas fruit for the needy. Afterwards they will go caroling through the countryside.

Is she a career girl? The Helen Kay Shoppe, also on Chambersburg street, has the perfect gift for her . . . a blouse by Glenwear with long sleeves and French cuffs. They come in any shade, too! . . . any lady will treasure hosiery for Phoenix.

Why not delight that big high school sister of yours with a nylon or woolen sweater! The shop features them in Glen Knitwear. There are cardigans, slipovers, and other styles . . . for that big Yuletide desire, why not brighten the occasion for her with a frock by Jon McCauley? As bright as holly are those velvet vests in moss green and red . . . an Alice blue beguine suit accented with black velvet would make any dream-girl "dreamer" . . . choose a Glenn plaid skirt for your dear colleague. . . We'll tell you about gift suggestions at other shops in our next piece. . . MLC Advt.

SCHROEDER AND TRABERT GAIN TENNIS FINALS

By GAYLE TALBOT
Melbourne, Australia, Dec. 14 (AP)—Lennart Bergelin failed his Swedish teammates badly again today as Ted Schroeder and Tony Trabert won the doubles and clinched the Davis Cup tennis cup interzone final for America.

The player who was supposed to be his country's ace in the hole collapsed almost completely after a good start, enabling Ted and Tony to come from behind and triumph easily, 10-12, 6-0, 6-3, 6-2.

Sven Davidson, Bergelin's youthful partner, put up a spirited battle all the way and never ceased trying, but the load was too much for one man to carry.

The first set, which required 41 minutes, was marked only by failure of the American pair to play anything like their best tennis. The next three sets, which took only 47 minutes, were distinguished by Bergelin's failure to hold his service in five straight tries.

Winners in Poor Form
Despite the one-sided scores in the last three sets, Schroeder and Trabert showed little to worry the Australians in the challenge round at Sydney, Dec. 26-28. The Aussies' two jewels, Frank Sedgman and Ken McGregor, likely would lick them in straight sets on today's form.

Trabert played his usual steady doubles game and got progressively better after the first set, but the American team needs Schroeder at his brilliant best to be a threat to the Aussies.

Schroeder's fluctuating form promises to pose a real problem for U.S. team captain Frank Shields after the team flies back to Sydney Sunday and renews practice for the challenge round.

With victory already decided, tomorrow's concluding singles will supply a dismal climax to the one-sided series here. Shields said he would stick with Schroeder and Trabert while Gunnar Galin, the Swedish captain, said he hadn't decided, but might change his lineup.

The American team will formally be announced Saturday or Sunday. It almost certainly will be Schroeder, Trabert, Vic Seixas and Dick Savitt.

MATTHEWS WINS 67TH STRAIGHT

Omaha, Dec. 14 (AP)—Light heavyweight Harry (Kid) Matthews scored a second-round knockout over heavyweight Art Henri last night and today his manager, Jack Hurley, was New York-bound to talk about "a big fight" for the Kid.

Actually, the summons to New York came in a phone call just before the Matthews-Henri fight. It brought a quick shift in Hurley's plans to return to Seattle with his fighter. Instead, he said he would leave early today for New York on "a matter of importance."

Matthews disposed of Henri in his best fashion. He kept the New York Negro back-tracking throughout the bout. Only with some fancy left-hand punching in the first round did Henri delay the knockout.

Shortly after the bell for the second, Matthews battered Henri with a furious series of lefts and rights. A right-cross to the chin finished Henri at 2:17 of the second. Matthews weighed 173 to Henri's 189.

A crowd of 3,589 paid $7,548.50 to see Matthews' 13th knockout of the year and 67th consecutive fight without a loss.

The Gettysburg college wrestling squad of 25 members will go to Annapolis, Md., on Saturday for a practice workout with Navy. Accompanying the squad will be Coach Jack Shainline and his assistant, Jimmy Lentz.

The Bullets will open their campaign January 12 when Haverford will be met here.

ANOTHER TITLE FOR KAZMAIER

New York, Dec. 14 (AP)—All-America, back of the year, football player of the year, and now the star who dazzled them all in one big game. We are referring, of course, to Princeton's Dick Kazmaier.

For his magnificent clutch showing against Cornell on October 27 in the clash that had been rated the game of the day, Kazmaier was chosen as the player who turned in the most outstanding single performance of the recent football season.

In the Associated Press' poll of sportswriters and sportseditors to determine who had staged the greatest one-day show, Kazmaier's distinguished day against Cornell was picked by 36 of the 102 poll participants. Others in the poll singled out Dashing Dick for his superb play against Brown, Harvard, Dartmouth and Yale.

Rated second in the poll was Fred Benner's amazing aerial exhibition for Southern Methodist against Notre Dame on October 13. Thirteen of the balloters picked that performance as tops. All Benners did was complete 21 passes in 41 tries for 326 yards and all four touchdowns to defeat the Irish, 27-20.

Third went to Hugh McElhenry, University of Washington's All-America fullback, for his spectacular show against UCLA. Hurryin' Hugh scored all of the Huskies' points in the 20-20 tie, tallying the tying touchdown by grabbing a pass and hustling 25 yards for the six pointer in the final 65 seconds. Then the 200-pound star calmly converted for the equalizer. McElhenry's exploits that day received eight nominations.

Sport Shorts

Philadelphia, Dec. 14 (AP)—Named outstanding player in the traditional Thanksgiving game with Howard University, Bob Smith, captain and quarterback back of the 1951 Lincoln University squad has been given an award. The presentation was made to the Jersey Shore, Pa., youth by a night club (Club Harlem) last night.

South Bend, Ind., Dec. 14 (AP)—Francis Murray, Pennsylvania athletic director who is a consistent critic of the NCAA's controlled television policy, deplored the NCAA's "negative" TV attitude Wednesday.

Murray spoke at the Notre Dame football squad's annual banquet, one of his listeners was Kenneth L. (Tag) Wilson, NCAA secretary-treasurer and Big Ten athletic commissioner.

Murray said that the NCAA, in dealing with the question of television of college sports events at its convention next month in Cincinnati, should "come forward with some positive statements and good points, instead of negative statements."

Joe DiMaggio, Dec. 14 (AP)—Joe DiMaggio was enroute home today with a new type of a New York Yankee contract in his pocket.

The Yankee Clipper, who announced his retirement as a player Tuesday, signed yesterday a contract to do the Yankees' pre-game and post-game television program next year. The contract is believed to call for more than $30,000 compared to $100,000 he received last season as a player. Under the contract he will not handle the play-by-play on radio or television. If that is added later it will be a separate deal.

Jack Lohrke, New York Giants' utility infielder for the past four seasons, will wear a Philadelphia Phillies uniform next season. He was traded yesterday to the Phils for Jake Schmitt, 26-year-old south-paw pitcher who had a 10 and 14 record with Baltimore of the International league last season.

Grand Rapids, Mich., Dec. 14 (AP)—Welterweight Chuck Davey of Lansing, Mich., last night won his 28th professional fight without a defeat by stopping the veteran Chuck Taylor of Coalport, Pa., in the seventh round of a scheduled 10-round bout. Davey, former NCAA welter king, weighed 144½; Taylor 148½.

Southpaw Davey never was in trouble and officials hadn't counted a round for Taylor when the fight was stopped to spare him further punishment.

Above are pictured members of the unbeaten Gettysburg college basketball team who clash with Hofstra, also undefeated, on the local court tonight at 8 o'clock. Hofstra is rated as one of the strongest small college teams in the east and now sports a perfect record of seven straight wins.

PREXIES' GRID PLANS BRING FAST REBUTTAL

Washington, Dec. 14 (AP)—The men who run the bowl games and some of the men who direct college athletic programs let it be known today they don't think much of a football de-emphasis program laid down by ten college presidents.

The presidents, members of a special committee set up by the American Council on Education, to study what's wrong with college sports, recommended these strong measures:

1. Abolition of all bowl games.
2. Barring of freshman from varsity sports.
3. Refusing alumni and other booster groups permission to give scholarships directly to athletes.

Three hours after the presidents' program was announced yesterday, Southeastern Conference athletic directors, in session at New Orleans, voted "almost unanimously" to tell the college presidents to keep their hands off the bowl policies of that conference.

Wisdom Questioned
Representatives of the Rose, Cotton and Orange bowls questioned, in varying degrees, the wisdom or necessity for the presidents' anti-bowl proposal.

Professor H. P. Everett of the University of Washington, acting as official spokesman for the Pacific Coast conference, said his group "is way ahead" of the college presidents who spoke up in Washington.

Perhaps the most interesting feature of their recommendation was the method suggested for enforcing their proposals, which were set forth by Dr. John Hannah of Michigan State.

In the past a school which violated athletic restrictions usually has had to answer to some conference or the National Collegiate Athletic Association (NCAA).

Under the presidents' proposal, Dr. Hannah said, "reasonable athletic behavior" would be considered a part of the school's academic setup. If a school got out of bounds, he said, it would jeopardize its academic standing.

The college presidents will meet in Washington again January 6 and 7 and possibly will complete their study at that time.

After they have completed their report, the executive council of the American Council on Education must approve it. What would happen then is anybody's guess.

Philadelphia — Marvin Edelman, 163½, Philadelphia, outpointed Harold Moore, 163½, Philadelphia, 8.

New Bedford, Mass.—Eddie Oliver, 143½, Windsor Locks, Conn., outpointed Angel Chavez, 145½, Springfield, Mass., 8.

Blue Laws Bring Game Postponement

Blue Laws outlawing Sunday sports, passed recently in Kingston, brought postponement of the Mt. St. Mary's-Kings college basketball game originally scheduled for Sunday. The game has been re-scheduled for March 3, according to Jack Dillon, Mount athletic director.

Tonight the Mountaineers, winners of the first two games, meet Bridgewater at 8:30 o'clock in Emmitsburg to open their Mason-Dixon conference campaign.

Sports Roundup

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.

New York, Dec. 14 (AP)—No matter what punishment, if any, the Southern conference decides to dish out this week-end, it looks as if Maryland and Clemson were smart to grab that bowl money while they could.

There's every indication that bowls will be out before another New Year's Day. . . . The presidents committee of the American Council of Education is against bowls. The Big Seven recently ruled the out, along with all other post-bowl, powerful Eastern College Athletic athletic competition. The athletic conference will consider a "no bowl" proposal today and there's a good chance it will pass. The Southern conference presidents opposed bowls, which is the reason why Clemson and Maryland are in hot water.

It all adds up to a ban of some sort when the National Collegiate A. A. meets next month. . . . And who'll be happiest about it? The pros. . . . If the college teams drop out, it's a cinch professional teams will take advantage of the enthusiastic followings these tourist-bait attractions have built up. . . . And then there's a chance for more all-star promotions like the Senior Bowl. . . . Maybe college teams won't play, but the players won't pass up such opportunities.

Chuck Bednarik, the Philly Eagles center, and Frank Wydo, Pittsburgh Steelers tackle, are old buddies from away back. . . . So when the teams clashed, the most surprised guy on the field was Bednarik when Wydo hauled off and hung one on him in the heat of a scrimmage. . . . Chuck walked over before the next play to ask how come. . . . "Chuck," Wydo replied, "five years ago in the Penn-Cornell game you clipped me. Now we're even."

After a miserable 1950 season, Notre Dame's footballers played to 520,879 customers this year with no crowd under 40,000. What became of the "pressure to win?"

The ebony tree of Queensland, Australia, besides its valuable hardwood, yields fruit like a plum.

Expect Debate On Football Issues
New York, Dec. 14 (AP)—The conservative Eastern College Athletic Conference will be asked today to go one step further than the committee of college presidents who are opposed to football bowl games.

The special ECAC committee on the improvement of intercollegiate athletics will ask not only disapproval of bowl and other post-season games not controlled and operated by collegiate organizations but it will propose a re-valuation of the entire NCAA championship program.

This proposal, in line with the recent Big Seven conference ban on all post-season competition, is part of a seven-point program to be offered at the ECAC annual meeting by a committee appointed September 6 to study the entire intercollegiate athletic picture.

The improvement committee reports and another by a committee studying football television are expected to provoke some heated debate and objections among the representatives of 89 eastern colleges which make up the conference.

Gavilan, Cartier To Fight Tonight
New York, Dec. 14 (AP)—Cuban Kid Gavilan—the man with the iron jaw—tests Walter Cartier's 500 plus knockout average tonight in an interesting Madison Square Garden pairing.

You can watch (NBC-TV) or listen (ABC) at 10:00 p.m. (EST) when welter champ Gavilan again ventures into the middleweight division.

Everybody pegs away at the indestructible Keed and nothing happens. In 93 fights, only Ike Williams was able to knock him down—and he couldn't keep him there. In fact Gavilan won two of their three bouts.

It's often the same story when Gavilan pegs away—nothing happens. His record shows 77 wins with 22 knockouts but most of the KOs came in lesser fights. Gavilan's flashy moves, his two-step rumba and bolo are eye-catchers. But he seldom drops an opponent.

Out Of The Past

From the Files of the Star and Sentinel and
The Gettysburg Times

FIFTEEN YEARS AGO

Rev. P. L. Reaser Is Installed:
The Rev. Paul L. Reaser, a native of Gettysburg, was installed as pastor of All Saints Lutheran church, Kulpmont, Pa., Sunday evening, December 13. Officiating was the Rev. W. N. Allison, pastor of Grace Lutheran church, of Mount Carmel.

Cluck—Hartzell: Herbert William Cluck, only son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry W. Cluck, Highland township, and Mary Jane Hartzel, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Philip H. Hartzel, of Biglerville, were united in marriage at 6:30 o'clock Saturday evening at St. John's Reformed church parsonage, Fairfield.

The ceremony was performed by the Rev. G. Howard Koons.

The couple was attended by I. Clifford Hartzel and Miss Evelyn G. Harman, both of Biglerville.

Mr. and Mrs. Cluck will reside at the home of the bride for the present.

Andrew—Manning: Mark Andrew, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Andrew, and Miss Goldie Manning, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Manning, both of near Emmitsburg, were married last Wednesday in Frederick at the Evangelical Reformed parsonage by the Rev. Dr. Henri L. G. Kieffer.

County Road Supervisors to Hold Meeting: The 19th annual convention of the Adams county township road supervisors will be held Wednesday morning and afternoon, at the court house. John H. Knox, the president, will preside. The minutes will be read by P. A. T. Bower, veteran secretary of the organization.

District Attorney John P. Butt will address the supervisors. Other speakers on the program are H. A. Thompson, Philadelphia, and H. G. Van Riper, Harrisburg.

Clayton Starnes, the treasurer, will report on the state supervisors' convention which he attended as a delegate.

Oliver J. Waybright and John R. Woods are the first and second vice presidents, respectively.

Property Transfer: Property transfers recorded at the office of the register and recorder included that of a property on West High street, Gettysburg, from Nicholas Redding, Gettysburg, executor of the will of Joseph Redding, to Francis H. and Jennie M. Rosensteel, Gettysburg.

College Musicians Give Christmas Program: The Gettysburg college a cappella choir and orchestra presented a Christmas program at Bruns Chapel Sunday evening, at 9:30 o'clock.

C. Carlton Hake and George Harkins were the featured soloists. Dr. Francis C. Mason read several appropriate selections. The audience participated in group singing.

Mary Pretz was the soloist for "Song of Mary," by Kranz.

Celebrate Anniversary: Celebrating the 45th anniversary of the founding of the Hetaeria club, Dr. and Mrs. George Stahley entertained its members, their husbands, members of Over-the-Teacups and their husbands at dinner Friday evening at the Blue Parrot tea room. Covers were laid for 41 guests. Following the dinner short talks were given by John D. Keith, Mrs. Charles H. Huber and Mrs. H. W. A. Hanson.

Duke of York Takes Throne: London, Dec. 11 (AP)—The greatest empire on the earth gave up Edward VIII today and place his brother, Albert Frederick Arthur George, on its throne.

In three swift hours, the houses of commons and lords approved the abdication of the 37-year sovereign who chose marriage to a twice-divorced American woman instead of a throne.

Prime Minister Stanley Baldwin paid his first visit to the new king this afternoon.

The king and king-to-be had probably their last dinner together in Edward's retreat at Port Belvedere. There Edward gave what counsel he could to the brother who will succeed him.

Edward cut himself off for a

LEARN BY DOING

There are plenty of people who talk about doing great things, and those who read about how to do things, but the only practical way to learn anything is to go ahead and do the thing you wish to do. Then you learn.

Some one remarked to Thomas Edison once, as he was told of the hundreds of failures that Edison had experienced on an invention he was working on, that he was wasting his time, but the great inventor replied that these hundreds of failures were very valuable to him for through them he learned of the many ways that did not work. He could always go to something fresh know that those past failures need not trouble him again!

By doing a thing we learn, not only what we wanted to learn, but how to spread out and learn more and better things. In the lower grades of schools, the children are put to work upon the making of things, and are taught to observe by lessons in art. This stimulates their creative facilities, which is invaluable as they grow older and learn to do new things.

We learn of our many defects by doing, and by testing out our abilities, many of which might lie idle, or never be discovered otherwise, otherwise. How many of us actually know the extent of our talents until we begin to dig them out and put them to the test? Learn by doing and you will always be on the right track.

The late Rex Beach was once a brick salesman. One day a chap showed him a check for a story he had sent to a publication. Beach read the article and decided he could write something just as good. So he tried—and a check came back to him. He gave up his job and devoted his life to writing. He became one of America's finest novelists—and a grand human being he was! He learned by doing.

Joseph Conrad, the Polish novelist, could not speak or write English until he was past thirty years of age. But when he died he was acclaimed as one of the greatest masters of English prose in the world! He learned by doing. So can any of us.

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "The Little Courtiers."

BROTHERS

Some eat no meat on Friday, and other friends of mine observe an ancient custom and eat no flesh of swine. Yet, when we meet at table, whatever each choice may be, on Thursday or on Friday still brothers all are we.

And still we play together. Together, too, we grieve—So little is the difference in what we all believe. For we have God above us, although our paths divide, And what is pride to one man, to all of us is pride.

One code of honor rules us; one test for weak and strong. A gentleman's agreement of what is right and wrong. In birth and death we're brothers. Why into quarreling fall, Since what is sin for one man, is sinful for us all?

Girl Reserves Open Yule Season: "The Hanging of the Greens," celebrating the opening of the Christmas season, was conducted in the YWCA building Sunday afternoon, at 4 o'clock. Members of the Girl Reserve department of the "Y" were in charge of the ceremony.

As the choir sang "O Come All Ye Faithful," the procession of the four groups of Girl Reserve clubs assembled in the drawing room, around the fireplace. The "Spirit of Christmas," portrayed by Emma Mary Smyser, Grace Dodge, advisor, was the leader.

Mrs. C. F. Sanders, president of the "Y" board, kindled a blaze in the fireplace and from the flame lighted the first candle. She lighted the candle of Miss Ellen Tipton, president of the business and professional women's club. Miss Tipton turned on the Christmas tree lights and also lighted the candles of eight girls who were "lights on the Christmas tree."

From Miss Tipton's candle, Evelyn Shoop, Dorothy Grimm, Olga King, Ida Mae Alexander, Eleanor Hanawalt and Patty Jean Myers received lights from each other, giving brief responses.

The hostesses were Mrs. George R. Larkin, Mrs. John S. Rice and Miss Miriam Waltemyer.

Annual Lodge Banquet: More than 200 persons attended the annual banquet of Battlefield council, No. 717, Order of Independent Americans, Friday evening, at the lodge rooms. A turkey dinner was served.

CONQUEST OF CANAAN

Joshua 1:1-7; 6:1-5, 20

Memory Selection: As I was with Moses, so I will be with thee; I will not fail thee, nor forsake thee.—Joshua 1:5.

A new era was about to open for the Israelites. A new leader was chosen by Jehovah. The man was Joshua. The tasks to be undertaken by God's people were different from those of the past 40 years. Then laws had to be formulated; organization had to be effected; the privations of travel had to be overcome; Egypt had to be forgotten; plans had to be made to enter Canaan.

Moses had done his work well. Joshua was well fitted for the work ahead. He was a man of good judgment and courage. His report after spying out the conditions in Canaan proved that as a faithful aid to Moses he had received valuable training and experience. He had military genius, and that was required in the time at hand.

So Joshua was chosen and installed. In doing so Jehovah pointed out the lands his people were to occupy. They were vast—from the Mediterranean to the Euphrates. The Lord's promises were the same as made to Moses: "I will be with thee; I will not fail thee, nor forsake thee." The immediate task was to cross the Jordan, and take the fortress city of Jericho. The story of the siege and fall of that city is fascinating. It was accomplished by marching around it and by the blowing of trumpets. To the men defending the city it must have appeared silly. Very likely Joshua did more than is recorded. There were sympathizers in the city—the woman Rahab and her family, a sort of fifth column. It is possible that when the trumpets gave a certain blast these people threw open the gates and the attacking forces rushed in. Other explanations have been suggested. But it may have been a miracle. The will and power of the Creator can bring about effects which to us of limited power are miraculous. The essential fact is that in their first attempt to conquer Canaan the Israelites were successful.

Jericho was a key city at the time and figured prominently in later years. Excavations by modern scholars corroborate the Bible accounts of the city. It was not large, the site covering about seven acres. Evidence that the walls were flattened and the city burned have been discovered. There is a modern Jericho—a small, unattractive village built not far from the site of the ancient city. From conquest of this stronghold, considered then a mighty fortress, Joshua and his people went on to subdue other places and tribes. Israel never occupied all of the whole area indicated by Jehovah as their rightful possession, except for a brief period years later. But what they did occupy served their heads. They had finally reached and enjoyed the promised land.

Modern Jerichos. The Israelites crossed the Jordan. That in its self was an achievement. They took the fortress city of Jericho. That was still more remarkable. All that is a part of ancient history. But the factors present in those undertakings are modern, and one may venture to say that are abiding. There is the matter of leadership. Now, as then, any great cause requires competent leaders. God provides them to work out his purposes. He does not leave Himself (Continued on Page 8)

AND THERE WAS LIGHT

When God said "Let there be light," He created the conditions under which life could exist on the earth. Without light, the earth would become a frozen ball, barren, desolate, and lifeless.

It was a great day for the human race when man learned to draw the imprisoned sun-rays from the elements and convert them into heat and light. It marked the beginning of human progress.

Step by step he has advanced from the brush fire to the marvels of electricity. With more light he has increased his knowledge, added to his safety, and improved his living standard.

Religion is the light of the spiritual world, and is essential to the growth and well-being of the soul. The Psalmist said, "The Lord is my light and my salvation," and the teachings of Jesus are the "true light" for all who will heed them.

Wherever the Bible is accepted as the guide of life, darkness disappears and the light of faith shines in the hearts of men.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

CONFUSION ON LOYALTY OATH IS MOUNTING

Harrisburg, Dec. 14 (AP)—House efforts to iron out differences in the controversial loyalty oath bill ended today in disagreement and confusion.

Rep. Edwin W. Tompkins (R-Camden), a member of a bi-partisan committee set up to achieve a compromise, said only one point of several remained to be solved. Then and passed with bi-partisan backing and passed with bi-partisan backing in the lower chamber.

Rep. Albert S. Readinger (D-Berks), another member of the same committee, promptly denied the statements and said nothing has been agreed upon.

Re-Written Six Times

The bill basically would require all public employees, including school teachers and candidates for public office, to take an oath stating they are not members of a subversive organization nor do not subscribe or teach subversive policies. The bill has the backing of the state's veterans organizations and has been opposed by labor unions, teachers groups and religious groups.

Passed by the Senate, the measure has been re-written by the House lawmakers at six different times. It was scheduled to come to a final vote this week but that action was delayed because of printer's errors on amendments and other difficulties.

Tompkins said the committee had decided to strike out all sections of the bill which would discharge a person presently employed in a public office on "grounds of reasonable doubt of loyalty."

"In this way we want any person now holding a job to be able to say to his accuser 'prove it with legal evidence,'" he added.

However, "the reasonable doubt" would be retained in the bill in those sections dealing with persons applying for jobs. Thus, if there was reasonable doubt as to the person's loyalty the appointing authority would not have to hire the applicant.

Readinger emphasized: "There has been no agreement reached on any portion of the changes we are discussing."

Harrisburg, Dec. 14 (AP)—A change in Pennsylvania's new chiropractic law moved closer to House voting action today after winning committee approval.

The measure, already approved by the Senate, makes minor changes in the licensing law for chiropractors signed by Gov. John S. Fine last August.

One amendment would allow persons practicing chiropractic before the law was signed to obtain a license by paying a fee but without taking an examination, provided they apply before September, 1952.

The other change would further define the status of board members by fixing their terms of office and defines specifically their examination powers.

without witnesses. In due time it was necessary to send His Son among men. Then came Paul, and others.

Faith in one God and obedience to Him must be established. But this faith must be spread and defended. Modern Jerichos always appear and must be conquered. At the moment organized godlessness is the world's menace. Military genius and might are needed as in Joshua's day. But our chief reliance must be in God, and the good that will come by exemplifying that faith in personal and national living. Jesus came that we "may have life, and have it abundantly." Primarily that means wholesome spiritual life. But out of such a life must flow relief for the sick, the imprisoned, the hungry, the naked. The gigantic struggle of our day will eventually be won by those who offer the life in Christ—the whole of life.

There are personal Jerichos. Each one is confronted by them as he strives toward his promised land—a life always nearer God and finally redeemed. In this endeavor we shall not fall if we have faith.

Faith of our fathers, living still
In spite of dungeon, fire and sword.

O how our hearts beat high with joy
Whenever we hear that glorious word!

Questions

1. What were Joshua's first obstacles?
2. On whom did he depend?
3. Name a modern Jericho.
4. How can it be conquered?
5. Is there a return to faith?

Answers

1. Jordan and Jericho.
  2. On God.
  3. Godlessness organized.
  4. By confidence and courage.
  5. Yes.

48 YEARS ENROUTE

Glendale, Calif., Dec. 14 (AP)—Forty-eight years ago in Kingsley, Iowa, Harlow Griffin mailed a letter to his mother in Glendale. It arrived here yesterday. Postal workers noticed it because of the old fashioned stamp. Where has it been all this time? Postmaster Max L. Green wouldn't even venture a guess.

NEW Interest Rates On SAVINGS Deposits

The First National Bank of Gettysburg hereby announces to its many customers and friends that, effective as of November 1, 1951, the rate of interest on Savings Accounts and Time Certificates of Deposit has been increased, by appropriate action of its Board of Directors, to two (2) percent per annum.

By this change in Interest Rates, ALL Savings Accounts will commence automatically to earn interest at the rate of two (2) percent per annum on November 1, 1951, and Time Certificates of Deposit issued and dated on and after November 1, 1951, will likewise bear interest at the rate of two (2) percent per annum, subject to the provisions of REGULATION "Q" of the Federal Reserve Act.

NO EXPLANATION OF TOWN FLOOD

Tucumcari, N. M., Dec. 14 (AP)—Sabotage rumors quieted today, but an explanation for yesterday's devastating water tank collapse seemed as remote as ever.

Four persons died, three were injured and two tots were orphaned in the wreckage which the 1,250,000-gallon deluge left in its wake on Main street.

Investigators have checked four leads, with these preliminary results: Sabotage—Possible, but there is little to back it up; explosion—possible, but "nothing now indicates an explosion either inside or outside the tank"; crystallizing of steel sides of the tank—the Federal Bureau of Investigation may send samples of the 8-inch steel wreckage to its Washington laboratories for testing; meteor falling on or near tank—now believed to have been a mistake by persons who believed they saw a fireball plunge to earth near the tank.

The FBI thinks the tank just collapsed. The tank was brought to Tucumcari second-hand in late 1938 or early 1939.

Harrisburg, Dec. 14 (AP)—A permanent state association is planned to back local slum clearance projects throughout the state. About 100 delegates who attended the second annual statewide conference on slum clearance here voted yesterday to form such a group. Clifton E. Rodgers, planning specialist of Beaver Falls and planning consultant for the commonwealth and the city of Harrisburg, appointed a five-member committee to plan the state association.

Philadelphia, Dec. 14 (AP)—John A. Schwab will succeed Harry I. Nancarrow as general manager of the Pennsylvania Railroad's eastern region January 1.

The region includes all that east of Altoona, taking in the important Philadelphia, New York, Baltimore, Washington, Norfolk, Harrisburg and Williamsport areas. Nancarrow will become assistant vice president in charge of operations in the system office in Philadelphia.

Picture of a man making a smart decision

HERE is a man who's been doing a lot of thinking.

Someday, he's told himself, I'm going to turn in my old car and get a new one.

And he said, still talking to himself, when I do that I'm going to size up the field—give 'em all a real going over.

You see him here at the wheel of a Buick. He hasn't bought it yet. It's a demonstrator, and he's trying it out.

But the more he tries it, the more he knows he's been wasting a lot of time.

From the moment he looked inside, he said: Here's the room—and the comfort—and the style I've been looking for.

Then he nudged its Fireball Engine into action. It's a high-compression valve-in-head, as you probably know.

He eased out into traffic. Stopped and started for a couple of traffic lights, and said something to the effect that this Dynaflo Drive® is a honey. Why don't they all build 'em this way?

He saw a bump ahead. Place where the pavement had been torn up. Other cars were braking down to a creep to cross it. He held back—rolled right across at regular speed with barely a bobble.

It's hard to believe, he said, but what they say about Buick's ride is right.

Ten minutes later he was out on an open stretch of road. Tried an experimental push on the gas treadle. Boy—what a take-off! You couldn't want more power than that.

Ten minutes more—and he knew something else. You don't really steer a Buick. It just about steers itself. Stays right on the beam on the straightaway. Even straightens itself out after a curve.

To make a long story short—he's found out that nothing else he's tried out can hold a candle—not even a little Christmas candle—to this bonnie beauty.

Back at the Buick showroom, he's going to get one more surprise. The price of a Buick is a lot less than he'd guessed it would be.

Moral: Smart Buy's Buick—right now.

SOLDIERS LEARN SAILING TRICKS AT FORT EUSTIS

Fort Eustis, Va. (AP)—This Army post is turning GI's into gobs.

"And they show an astounding aptitude for nautical duty," says Maj. Ulysses P. Hedrick, of Geneva, N. Y., commanding officer of the 449th Harbor Craft and Marine Maintenance Battalion. "In 90 days they like the water better than the land. They'll probably be sailors the rest of their lives."

Hedrick said a Minnesota farm boy drafted in March likes his new job so well he has filed an application with an oil company for a berth on a tanker after his Army discharge.

All Army Ships

The Army Transportation Corps, which is up to its neck in the rail and truck transportation business, is now devoting a sizeable area of this sprawling center to the training of soldiers for its water transportation system. It is the only activity of its kind in the United States.

Here on the James river, officer and enlisted personnel learn to operate the Army's freight and supply ships, tugs, landing craft, fireboats, barges, floating machine shops and T-boats, which haul personnel and package freight. Some men are trained to be divers, others to operate marine railways. Many are trained to be stevedores.

Soldiers who come to Fort Eustis for specialized training in land or water transportation have had their basic training elsewhere.

Sea Dogs Among Them

Many of Hedrick's trainees are former Navy men or Merchant Mariners. He says about 40 per cent have served in the Merchant Marine and 15 per cent in the Navy. Many have been stevedores.

Hedrick and his staff teach a soldier to become a deckhand in six weeks. Training of deck personnel requires six months and includes instruction in subjects ranging from elementary piloting to celestial navigation. A man learns to be a small boat skipper in 90 days.

The Transportation Corps sends ships to New York, New Orleans, Philadelphia and the Great Lakes for the training of organized reserve units in ship handling and in stevedoring.

GERMAN LIVES IN OLD TOWER

Frankfurt, Germany (AP)—Johann Geiger, 72, lives in a home that has survived a dozen wars—and he thinks it has a chance even to withstand an atomic attack.

With his wife, former locksmith Geiger occupies the Eschenheimer Turn, a watchtower more than 500 years old, which stands in the midst of a busy Frankfurt circle.

He moved into the tower in 1942, when its former resident, a friend of his, resettled in the countryside. "It proved a lucky idea," said Geiger.

About a year later, Allied planes first raided the city and by the end of the war more than 100 heavy bombs had fallen in a radius of 200 yards from the tower. Some bombs missed by only three yards, but they did not shake the stone walls which are 10 feet thick. The basement served as an air raid shelter for the Geigers and 100 neighbors.

On Three Levels

The living quarters start at 30 feet above ground and have a picturesque, flower-decorated balcony. There are three rooms, all built in different styles in the course of history, and each is on a different landing.

Until a century ago, tower residents had to toll a bell hourly to prove to citizens that they were staying awake and keeping watch against foes and robbers. The Eschenheimer Turn originally was part of the city wall which girded medieval Frankfurt.

"In return for their guard duty, the residents did not have to pay rent," said Geiger. "I am no guard and therefore the city charges me 40 marks ($9.52) a month."

SCULPTOR USES ODD MATERIALS

New York (AP)—A training in science, a national tragedy, exile, Yogi Berra out of these elements a young Indian is having his first big sculpture show here.

The sculptor's materials and methods are as unusual and varied as his background: Steel armatures bolted and welded together, burlap and concrete for a base boided by hand, plaster mixed with color for the surface, chisel and hammer to give it the final shape.

Thinks Up Subjects

The artist is Amar Nath Sehgal, who is having a show of 12 pieces at the Arthur U. Newton Galleries. A Hindu born in what is now Pakistan, Sehgal took a degree in science, went into the electrical appliance business, fled when partition took place, reached this country in 1949. He now has a master's degree from New York university.

He has employed his regular daily periods of Yogi, or of contemplation and meditation, to think up plastic forms expressing the troubles of his homeland, and illustrating or interpreting other emotional experiences. "The Downtrodden," "Aggression and Submission" and "Hate" reflect the national tragedy.

Likes His Work

What's the advantage of this form of sculpture? "It gives me a lot of pleasure," he says, "to mold the large basic form in burlap and concrete. And also I have the double experience of using both the broad sweeping gesture, as at the start, and putting on the little finishing touches with the chisel to complete the work."

Sulphur from underground deposits is mined by using immense quantities of hot water to melt the mineral, which then is forced to the surface by compressed air.

Chinese Claim Big Harbor Ready Soon

San Francisco (AP)—The Chinese Communists say they will complete one of the world's largest man-made harbors by the end of 1952.

A Peiping broadcast monitored here said the harbor is being built at Taku, the old port for the great northern industrial city of Tientsin. By dredging and construction of breakwaters, the Communists claim Taku will be able to accommodate 10,000-ton ships and handle millions of tons of freight annually.

The Anglo-Egyptian Sudan, now claimed by Egypt, contains nearly a million square miles of territory and about eight million people.

His Fifteenth Cadillac!

Put a man behind the wheel of a Cadillac—and he's very likely to stay behind the wheel of a Cadillac!

Many and many a man is driving his fifteenth Cadillac—and it is not unusual to encounter an owner who goes far beyond that figure.

Naturally, a car must offer many things in order to have such an enduring hold on the affections of those who own and drive it.

It must be as faithful and dependable as a mechanical creation of its type can be.

It must be so pleasant to drive and so easy to handle that the hours at its wheel bring rest and relaxation.

It must be so beautiful and so highly respected that it is a compliment to its owner wherever he drives.

And it must be economical, both to operate and to maintain—for luxury brings a dual pleasure when it comes with no extra penalty in cost.

In short, if a car is to have such a hold on the regard of its owners, it must be a Cadillac!

If you have already ordered this distinguished car, and are awaiting its delivery, hold firm to your purpose—for each day brings you closer to your heart's desire.

But if we don't yet have your order, better come in and see us today. The sooner you place your order, the sooner you'll have those many wonderful things which only a Cadillac provides.

INSURANCE TAX JUMP HITS NEW SNAG IN HOUSE

Harrisburg, Dec. 14 (AP) — A new snag developed Thursday in the state's efforts to solve its tax problem.

House refusal to give its final approval to a bill removing tax exemptions now enjoyed by some insurance companies left a $5 million gap in a $113 million compromise tax program.

And House Republican leadership shifted the problem to the Senate. The lower chamber Wednesday voted its final approval of $108 million in tax bills by passing a conference report designed to settle differences between the two branches.

Attacked Earlier Too
It defeated, 83-40, however, the insurance tax bill. The constitutional majority is 105 votes.

The insurance bill, as presented to the House, would have removed the exemption of mutual, fire, casualty and marine insurance companies located in this state and all life insurance firms from payment of the two per cent tax on premium collections in Pennsylvania.

A provision changing the tax rate drew the principal fire in the House despite its passage in that form last September.

The bill increases the rate from eight mills to two per cent while removing the exemption.

School Aid Bill Passed
In sending the bill to conference committee earlier in the week, the House objected to a provision which would have eliminated beneficial societies from the tax exemptions. These societies provide for insurance benefits to their members. They include the Elks, Moose, Eagles and Masonic groups, among others.

The conference committee deleted that provision but defeat of its report restores the bill to the previous form.

In another development the House Wednesday approved Senate amendments to legislation providing state aid to school districts to help finance a $56 million salary boost for Pennsylvania's 60,000 teachers.

The bill went to the governor for signature.

Funds For Salaries
The Senate Finance committee went through the formality Wednesday of adding $10,472,290 to the state's big general fund appropriation for the next two years. The move was authorized by the Senate GOP caucus last week. The additional money brings to $634,852,695 the amount earmarked to cover regular state expenses for the next two years.

The appropriation hike consisted largely of money needed to offset a 10 percent salary boost for state employees. It also includes a $1,100,000 increase in the allocation of the 14 state teachers' colleges. The total grant now fixed for these colleges runs $11,600,000.

Sen. John H. Dent, Democratic floor leader, promised delaying tactics if a compromise is not reached. Any extended delay could throw off a December 22 adjournment deadline fixed by the Legislature.

"Grossly Unfair"
In another Philadelphia development, the Senate local government committee approved for floor action a bill to exempt non-residents from Philadelphia's wage tax. Enactment of the bill would cut that city's revenue by $9 million a year.

In attacking the insurance bill Wednesday, Rep. Walter Bomberger (R-Lancaster) told the House: "This is grossly unfair. The tax jump is one of the largest tax increases I've ever heard of—two and one half times the original tax itself."

Rep. Charles C. Smith, Republican floor leader, defended the bill but later told a reporter that it would be up to the Senate to amend it to meet House objections.

Apart from the tax package, the House also passed a conference report to plug a $2 million loophole in the collection of the five-cents a gallon tax on diesel fuel used in trucks. It must also pass the Senate before going to the governor.

The tax package passed by the House (with revenue estimates in parentheses) calls for:

Collecting 39 months of corporate net income taxes within the present two-year fiscal period ($61 million). The vote was 203-2.

Imposing a new one percent tax on real estate transfers to be paid by the seller ($20 million). The vote: 108-97.

Removing exemptions for payment of the eight-mill tax on gross receipts of public utilities for fire trucks and bus firms which are now allowed to deduct the amount of license fees paid to the state from their returns ($19 million). The vote: 118-87.

Increasing inheritance taxes from 10 percent to 15 percent on other than direct heirs but leaving the two percent levy on direct heirs intact ($8 million). The vote: 190-13.

RAISE PAY FOR COLLEGE STAFFS

Harrisburg, Dec. 14 (AP)—A bill giving faculty members at Pennsylvania's 14 state teachers' colleges substantial salary increases has final approval of the Legislature. The House-passed bill won Senate approval Wednesday and went to Gov. John S. Pine.

"Passage of this bill shows that this Legislature definitely has aided education in this state," said Sen. William J. Lane (D-Washington). Lane said minimum salary levels would be boosted and annual pay increases provided for some 771 instructors at the colleges.

The bill also sets up a new category of assistant professor at teachers' colleges with the position paying a minimum of $4,000 a year.

The minimum salary level for professors with seven years' experience and holding doctor's degrees would go from $4,383 to $5,000; for associate professors from $4,041 to $4,500; and for instructors with three years' experience from $3,204 to $3,500.

The measure also provides five annual increases of $200 each for professors, associate and assistant professors and five $100 increases for instructors. Pay increases under present law are dependent on the availability of state funds.

Says Eisenhower Is Being Used By GOP

Washington, Dec. 14 (AP)—Senator O'Mahoney (D-Wyo.) contended today that Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower is being "used" by victory-hungry Republicans backing him for President.

"I don't think the general should be used to save either the Repub-

Attorney General J. Howard McGrath gestures with his spectacles December 11, while testifying before the tax probe of the House Ways and Means subcommittee in Washington. lican party or the Democratic party," O'Mahoney told reporters. Another Democratic senator, Humphrey (Minn.), who has just returned from Western Europe, said

Harrisburg, Dec. 14 (AP)—The Senate approved unanimously Wednesday a $2,800 appropriation to purchase additional land for the Scotland school for veterans' children. The House bill, which was sent to Gov. John S. Pine, would permit the Department of Property and Supplies to purchase 16 acres adjacent to the school.

Sunbury, Pa., Dec. 14 (AP)—An auto train collision here killed Elwood Markel, 37, of Lewisburg, the driver of the automobile. Injured was George Orner, of Lewisburg R. I. A he found people there "very disturbed" by talk that Eisenhower may run for President.

"Nearly everybody I talked to is hoping Eisenhower will stay in Europe," Humphrey said. "He symbolizes the commitment of the American people to Western Europe."

Far Below Stood the Hideous Castle of the Horrible Hobblins.

SYNOPSIS: Santa makes Belinda and Tommy welcome and soon they are telling him all about the mean Mr. Lump, and how they wanted Santa to make him nice to Tommy and to Poppy. Just then Mrs. Claus came in with a gift from the Horrible Hobblins who have changed suddenly into nice giants. "I have it," cried Santa. "If we can find out what changed the Horrible Hobblins we will be able to change Mr. Lump."

CHAPTER TEN ANOTHER TRIP

The Horrible Hobblins are the giants of the North. They live in a castle deep in the snow country. For many hundreds of years every creature in that green land lived in fear of the giants. They were mean tempered and mean acting and no one could tell what mean thing they next might do.

Besides that, the Horrible Hobblins were horrible to look at. They were so ugly that it is quite possible they were even afraid of themselves.

All of this Santa told Belinda and Tommy.

"But now," he said, "a strange thing has happened. The giants have changed completely. Instead of fighting and quarrelling with their neighbors they send gifts and have become the most agreeable creatures alive."

"Oh, I see," cried Belinda joyfully. "Then if we find why they changed we can tell Mr. Lump the secret and then Mr. Lump will have Poppy freed from jail and be kind to Tommy!"

She could hardly keep still she was so eager to be off. "Can we go this very minute?"

Mrs. Claus bustled in from the kitchen. "I don't know where you are planning to go," she said firmly. "But I do know you won't go until you have had something to eat."

With that Mrs. Claus set an enormous tray of food on the table. You can imagine how hungry the children were for goodness knows how long it had been since they had eaten. Neither child needed a bit of coaxing but started at once on the good things. Mrs. Claus put before them.

There was milk, flavored with caramel. Muffins with apricots hidden inside. Potatoes molded into Christmas trees.

When they had finished, Santa said to Tweedleknies: "Hurry off and bring my sled." Grumbling to himself Tweedleknies stomped away.

Santa bundled the children in their coats. Then he got into his own red coat trimmed with soft white fur.

"Come along," he said cheerfully. "I think your troubles will soon be over."

Belinda and Tommy were too excited to speak. Only think!—They were going to ride in Santa's great sleigh pulled by Santa's very own reindeer! But, alas, when they went outside there was Tweedleknies with a perfectly ordinary sled and no reindeer at all.

"But who will pull us?" asked Belinda, riding her disappointment. "It needs no pulling," laughed Santa. "You will see."

He settled the children on the

Santa Fooled This Youngster Before

Huntington, W. Va. (AP)—Santa Claus got the shock of his long life as he interviewed petitioning youngsters in a department store here.

Jay Gould, 21-year-old Marshall college student, who has been filling in as Santa, said he had been getting the usual requests for dolls, guns and other toys.

Then one little fellow, when asked what he wanted, came up with the shocker:

"Nothing. You lied to me last year."

Sled: But just as he prepared to climb on, Thomas the Ball maker raced out of the night.

"Santa! Santa!" he cried. "We're ready to paint the balls."

Santa looked worried. "Can't it wait until tomorrow?" he asked.

"No, no!" protested Thomas. "Tomorrow we must finish the wagons. Tonight is the only time we have for the balls."

Santa looked sadly at Tommy and Belinda. "They cannot paint the balls until the bounce is put in them," he explained. "And I am the only one who can put the bounce in a rubber ball."

"Of course you must stay," said Belinda. "Don't worry," said Tommy. "We shall be all right with the giants if they are as nice as you say."

"Yes," said Santa. I am sure you will be all right. But first I will tell you my two most valuable secrets. The first secret is how to make a sled carry you wherever you wish. The second secret is how to rise in a chimney."

Then Santa whispered to them. What he whispered I cannot tell you for they are secrets that belong to Santa alone and are his alone to give away.

The children used the first secret to speed away on Santa's little sled. It needed no one to pull it but raced on under its own mysterious power up hill and down with Belinda and Tommy clinging to the sides.

Night had passed and day was half gone when the sled finally came to the top of the last hill. Far below stood the hideous castle of the Horrible Hobblins.

UNCLE SAM IN ON STEEL PARLEY

Pittsburgh, Dec. 14 (AP)—The federal government took a seat today at sensitive contract negotiations between the million-member CIO United Steelworkers union and U.S. Steel Corp., top producer of the industry.

Cyrus S. Ching, director of the Federal Mediation and Conciliation service, ordered two ace mediators to Pittsburgh yesterday after CIO President Philip Murray surprised the industry by calling union policy-makers to a meeting.

Clyde Mills, assistant chief of the U.S. Mediation service, and Walter A. Magglo, acting general counsel, arrived by plane too late to attend yesterday's session of company-union talks.

Mills immediately sought to spike talk of a breakdown in the negotiations by saying: "Nothing specific prompted the government to take a hand in the steel wage talks. We weren't going to wait until the last minute."

The New York Herald Tribune said today the USW plans to authorize Murray to call a strike against the steel industry. It stated: "The authority is slated to be granted, on Mr. Murray's recommendation, in Pittsburgh on Monday at a meeting of the x x x union's wage policy committee, which Mr. Murray has summoned because of lack of progress in negotiations."

The newspaper said the union "is not expected to strike on the heels of the authorization," adding "the move is to get the case into the hands of the government."

Finally Gets Reply To Note In Bottle

New York (AP)—After 20 long years it finally happened—Arthur Wagner, a ship's steward, finally got an answer to the bottled notes he's been tossing into the ocean these many years.

He's been using one-gallon bottles for the notes which ask the finder to write him or Sam Finkelstein, another steward. When the Constitution docked recently in New York, Finkelstein received a letter from one Donato Gigliante of Marsala, Italy, which said:

"My dear Sam: I've found it, your bottle with this message in it where you wrote to get it back and I'm doing it as you sed. Well, I've found it at the seaside. I should like to know why you did it because I never found it anything, but this I think it must be something very important."

Sam and Art aren't so sure now just what the point of the whole thing was.

Toolmaker Gives Uncle Sam $6,216

Philadelphia, Dec. 14 (AP)—A tool-manufacturing company of nearby North Wales refunded $6,216 to the Army on an Ordnance Corps contract because "it was the moral thing to do," government officials have disclosed.

Harry E. Hyde, chief of the Philadelphia Ordnance district, said Wednesday that Greene, Tweed and company was awarded a contract, on a competitive bidding basis, for 1,200 bogie wrench assemblies last February. The price was a bit more than $50 for each unit, which is a ratcheting device used on self-propelled artillery mounts.

The firm came through on schedule, delivering all the parts with a perfect record of no rejects. Walter S. Josephson, plant manager and vice president, said the company then found that it had turned out each unit for $5.18 less than figured in its bid. "If we are able to fulfill a contract for less than the stated price and still make a fair profit," he said, "we feel morally obligated to refund the difference to the customer." Hyde's comment: "The contract price was final and not subject to future audit. The company is to be commended for its performance."

News From Littlestown

ANNUAL DINNER FOR FOUNDRY WORKERS HELD

Approximately 300 employees of the Littlestown Hardware and Foundry company, Inc., and their guests were in attendance at the annual Christmas banquet and the 35th anniversary celebration of the founding of the firm on Wednesday evening in St. Aloysius parish hall. The invocation was given by Ernest R. Sentz, followed with a roast turkey dinner served by Bankert's restaurant, caterer. Dinner music was provided by Roy Gibbons orchestra, of York.

The program was presented with Charles Slusser, chairman of the 1951 program committee, serving as master of ceremonies. The committee presented a gift to each of the employees and two gifts to each of the ladies present. L. D. Snyder spoke and made the presentation of gold pins to Kenneth Stair, Roger Kress and Henry E. Waltman, who have been associated with the company for 25 years. Gifts were received by L. D. Snyder and E. H. Snyder from the employees.

Entertainment consisted of four acts, among which was featured the Papermakers quartet from Spring Grove. A group from Roberts Theatrical agency, Harrisburg, entertained with varied acts. Several of the employees received humorous gifts.

The 1951 program committee was composed of Charles Slusser, chairman, Harold Krichen, Merle Little, Ralph Vaughn and George Peart. The following will serve as the program committee for the 1952 banquet, Samuel L. Snyder, chairman, Woodrow Crabbs, Melvin Overholtzer, Franklin Koontz and Earl Lemmon.

Bowling Schedules Are Announced

In the Littlestown Woman's Bowling league, the schedule for the coming week follows: Monday, Kress's opposite Lemmon's Atlantic Service Station, and Marvin's against the Windsor; Tuesday, the Shamrocks will oppose the Camcos and Inner's will meet Sunset Hill farm. The league rolls on alleys three, four, five and six at Basehoar's, North Queen street. During the Christmas and New Year holiday weeks the women will not bowl. The 13-week schedule will be resumed on Monday, January 7. The Men's Bowling league teams will begin their 12th week of competition on Monday evening with the Littlestown 5 and 10 and Basehoar's bowling on alleys one and two at Basehoar's. On Wednesday evening, the Keystone opposite the Eagles, VFW against the Rotary and Sonny's Lunch representatives will meet the Record Shop on alleys one, two, three, four, five and six. The Men's league holiday schedule will be announced later.

APPRECIATION DAY

The weekly Appreciation Day programs will be held on Saturday evening in front of the Record shop, South Queen street. The first program will take place at 8 o'clock, and the second program for the merchandise certificate will occur at 9 o'clock. The affair is sponsored by the Littlestown Chamber of Commerce. The Chamber has announced that an Appreciation Day program will take place every evening throughout next week at 8 o'clock, when the local stores will remain open for the convenience of the Christmas shoppers until 9 o'clock.

TO PRESENT PAPER

The Rev. G. Howard Koons, pastor of Christ Reformed church, near town, will present the paper of the day at the monthly meeting of the Gettysburg Classis Ministerium of the Evangelical and Reformed church, to be held on Monday afternoon, 2 o'clock with the Rev. Harvey M. Light, Hanover, pastor of the West Manheim charge, as the host pastor.

FOE PARTY MONDAY

The members of the Fraternal Order of Eagles, Littlestown Aerie No. 2226, the members of the Ladies' Auxiliary of the aerie and their guests will enjoy their annual Christmas turkey dinner on Monday evening, at the Eagles' home, West King street. Serving will take place from 5:30 to 10:30 o'clock, that evening.

EXTRA P. O. HOURS

Post Master Clarence L. Schwartz has announced that the local post office will observe regular weekday hours on Saturday, December 15 and 21. The post office will remain open from 8 a.m. to 6 p.m., for the convenience of Christmas package mailing.

DANCE AT EAGLES

The Fraternal Order of Eagles, Littlestown Aerie No. 2226, will sponsor dancing on Saturday evening from 9:30 to 12:30 o'clock at the Eagles home, West King street. Music will be provided by Gene Froek and his orchestra from Westminster. Door prizes will be offered at 10:30, 11:30 and 12:30 o'clock.

FARM CALENDAR

Poison the Rats—Poisoning is about the best means of killing rats, according to E. J. Udine, extension entomologist of the Pennsylvania State college. There are many kinds of rat poison on the market, but the newest one which seems to be doing an excellent job of killing rats is a product called warfarin.

Grade the Pullets—If several pens are available, says F. H. Leuschner, extension poultry specialist of the Pennsylvania State college, grade the pullets according to development and maturity. Do not put pullets having undesirable characteristics in the laying house. If they are in good flesh, send them to market.

Demand to be Strong—Demand for farm products at home and abroad is expected to continue strong next year, report Penn State extension agricultural economists. If growing weather is favorable, output of crops next year will continue large.

Symes Gets Pennsy Executive Position

Philadelphia, Dec. 14 (AP)—James S. Symes becomes executive vice president of the Pennsylvania Railroad on Jan. 1.

His appointment was announced by PRR President Walter S. Franklin Wednesday after a meeting of the board of directors of America's largest railroad.

Symes, who has been vice president in charge of operations since 1947, will assist Franklin in the general supervision and administration of the company's affairs. He is 56. The position is not new but has been vacant since Franklin succeeded Martin W. Clement as president. Railroad officials wouldn't comment, but the post is generally regarded as the "stepping stone" to the presidency.

James P. Newell, now assistant vice president-operation, was named to succeed Symes.

CHAMPION COCKTAIL

Paris, Dec. 14 (AP)—A cocktail with violet petals sprinkled in it won the 1951 championship of France last night for Michel Filippi, 28, a bartender from Nice. Other ingredients: Equal parts of gin and dry vermouth; two dashes Creme de Cacao; spot of Kirsch, a strong liqueur; orange peel.

Austin, a ghostlike mining town near Baker, Ore., once had a population of 5,000 after gold was discovered there in the 1860's.

Picture of a man making a smart decision

HERE is a man who's been doing a lot of thinking.

Someday, he's told himself, I'm going to turn in my old car and get a new one.

And he said, still talking to himself, when I do that I'm going to size up the field—give 'em all a real going over.

You see him here at the wheel of a Buick. He hasn't bought it yet. It's a demonstrator, and he's trying it out.

But the more he tries it, the more he knows he's been wasting a lot of time.

From the moment he looked inside, he said: Here's the room—and the comfort—and the style I've been looking for.

Then he nudged its Fireball Engine into action. It's a high-compression valve-in-head, as you probably know.

He eased out into traffic. Stopped and started for a couple of traffic lights, and said something to the effect that this Dynaflow Drive* is a honey. Why don't they all build 'em this way?

He saw a bump ahead. Place where the pavement had been torn up. Other cars were braking down to a creep to cross it. He held back—rolled right across at regular speed with barely a bobble.

It's hard to believe, he said, but what they say about Buick's ride is right.

Ten minutes later he was out on an open stretch of road. Tried an experimental push on the gas treadle. Boy—what a take-off! You couldn't want more power than that.

Ten minutes more—and he knew something else. You don't really steer a Buick. It just about steers itself. Stays right on the beam on the straightaway. Even straightens itself out after a curve.

To make a long story short—he's found out that nothing else he's tried out can hold a candle—not even a little Christmas candle—to this bonnie beauty.

Back at the Buick showroom, he's going to get one more surprise. The price of a Buick is a lot less than he'd guessed it would be.

Moral: Smart Buy's Buick—right now.

JUDGE HOMES DECEMBER 26; INTEREST HIGH

During the last week, the Christmas spirit has been spreading rapidly throughout Littlestown by means of decorations and lights. The Littlestown Junior Chamber of Commerce is again sponsoring a Christmas decorating contest for all local residents. Handbills with attached entry blanks have been distributed from door to door. Only residents of the borough, not including business establishments or members of the Jaycees decorating committee, are eligible for entry. The blanks should be filled out signifying the classification of the competition desired and mailed to Harold O. Sentz, chairman of the contest committee, Littlestown R. 2, not later than Thursday, December 20. The decoration has been divided into three types of classification. The classifications and the cash prizes are as follows: Decorating entire house, first, $30, second $20 and third $10; decorating both windows and doorways, $20, $12.50 and $7.50, and arranging special outstanding features, $20, $12.50 and $7.50.

The contest committee has announced the following judges for the affair: C. N. Parr of C. N. Parr and company, Hanover; Attorney Donald M. Swope, Gettysburg, and George Sauble, of Taneytown. Judging will take place the evening of Wednesday, December 26.

List Poster Winners
The contest will provide pleasure for all those participating and will greatly add to the beauty of Littlestown at Christmas time, Mr. Sentz said. The chairman further stated, "Much interest has been shown in the contest thus far, according to the response of applications received." In the event that someone was accidentally missed in the distribution of the blanks, a postcard sent to Mr. Sentz will be sufficient. In order to make the affair as successful as the contest last year, co-operation is needed from the local people, who are always interested in the welfare of the community. Hints on decorating may be received free of charge by writing for the booklet "Decorating the Home," radio station WBAL, Baltimore.

In conjunction with the lighting contest, the Jaycees sponsored a poster making contest open to all local high school students. This special feature was conducted earlier in the week and Mrs. John F. Feiser, local free lance artist, served as judge of the poster event. Cash awards were received by the following: Ethel Arentz, first, $5; William Benner, second, $3; Larry Feiser, third, $2, and Barbara Motter, Louise Frymier, Elizabeth Anne Crouse and Erma Arentz, all received fourth place or $1 each. These posters, depicting winter scenes and announcing the decorating contest, have been placed in the display windows at the local business establishments.

LEGION PLANS PARTY DEC. 31

Plans were made for the annual New Year's Eve party sponsored by the Ocker-Snyder Post No. 321, American Legion, at the first December meeting of the Legion on Thursday evening at the post home, East King street. Commander John Warchheim, who was in charge, appointed the following to serve as a committee to make arrangements for the party on Monday evening, December 31: Richard A. Long, Earl Sefer, John O'Donnell, Vernon Rudy and Russell DeHoff.

The group decided to pay all expenses of the "Crazy Daze" show, sponsored by the Legion for the benefit of the community ambulance fund, presented last week-end in the local high school auditorium, out of the Legion canteen fund leaving more money remaining in the ambulance fund. A complete financial report on the "Crazy Daze" affair will be presented at the next meeting of the Legion on Thursday evening, December 27.

On Wednesday evening the cast of characters, all local talent, who appeared in "Crazy Daze," were treated to a sea food dinner at Basehoar's restaurant, here, as an expression of appreciation for all the hard work done by those taking part in the play. Those at the dinner included: Joseph P. Long, Mrs. Jacqueline Baughman Rudisill, David S. Kammerer, Jr., Mrs. Albert H. Miller, Jr., Miss Elizabeth Mehrling, Miss Barbara Harner, Warren C. Harner, Stewart N. Long and Miss Bernice Plunkert, all members of cast; Ralph R. Ruggles, Jr., chairman of the committee in charge of the affair, and John Warchheim, commander of the post, Wilbur E. Mackley, the tenth member of the cast, was unable to attend the dinner.

Beauty Shop Window Decorations Burned

Alpha Fire company No. 1 answered a call about 6:50 o'clock on Thursday evening to Evelyn's Beauty shop, 39 South Queen street, which property is owned by W. H. Dern. An attempt was made to light the Christmas decorations in the show window of the shop when the blaze started. Everything in the window was ruined causing a damage of approximately $300, which is covered by insurance. The Alpha firemen and two trucks arrived at the scene but their assistance was not needed. Fire Chief Glenn E. Ohler said.

JR. HI PROGRAM THIS EVENING

The students of the Littlestown Junior Senior high school will present their annual Christmas program for the public this evening at 7:30 o'clock in the high school auditorium.

The program will be under the direction of Mrs. Joan C. Wilt and Miss LeOra L. Held, of the faculty, and will open with a processional of high school girls in surplices and carrying candles, singing "Adeste Fideles." The Junior high school chorus with Barbara Swam, Anna Mae Sell and Marilyn Spangler as piano accompanists, will sing the following group numbers: "Bring the Torch," traditional; "Gesu Bambino," Yon; "Little Jesus," Thompson, with Brenda Hess as narrator, and "When Children Pray." A feature, "A Christmas Carol Service," will be narrated by Shirley Warner and Beverly DeHoff.

Carol singing by the audience will include the following selections: "O, Little Town of Bethlehem," "Angels From the Realms of Glory," "It Came Upon the Midnight Clear," "The First Noel," "We Three Kings of Orient," "Joy to the World" and "Silent Night." The Senior high school chorus will sing: "Carol of the Bells," Wilhousky; "Sweet L'il Jesus Boy," spiritual, and "No Candle Was There, and No Fire," Leahman. Lois Ann Feiser will be the accompanist for the Senior high group. A vocal duet, "Cantique de Noel," will be sung by Marie Basehoar and Ferree LePevre. The program will close with the postlude, "It Came upon the Midnight Clear." The members of the Mite society of St. Paul's Lutheran church will meet at 7:30 o'clock Monday evening at the home of Mrs. Robert Mehrling, Lumber street, to pack Christmas baskets for the shut-ins of the congregation.

Ladies' Aid Holds Christmas Party

Sixty-two members and twelve visitors were in attendance at the monthly meeting and Christmas party of the Ladies' Aid society of St. Luke's Union church, near White Hall, on Wednesday evening at the church. The meeting opened with a carol sing by the group, led by the Rev. Oscar E. Feeman, pastor of the Lutheran charge, with Miss Myrtle Good as piano accompanist. A reading was read responsively by the group, with the Rev. Mr. Feeman as leader, followed with prayer offered by the pastor. The birthdays of the following members were noted, Mrs.

turned home recently after spending several days in Tioga county. Mr. Ruggles bagged an eight-point buck weighing about 110 pounds, and Mr. Reck returned with a four-point buck also weighing approximately 110 pounds.

Stewart Shildt, Mrs. Fred Breighner, Miss Mary Flickinger, Mrs. Donald Gardner and Mrs. Easton Weikert. The guest box was contributed by Mrs. Ray Reichart and was received by Mrs. Robert Gladhill.

The business session was held in charge of the president, Mrs. John H. Hartlaub. One new member was received, Mrs. Francis Dayhoff. It was decided to purchase a large receiving plate for the church offering plates. The president appointed Mrs. Roscoe W. Rittase and Mrs. Claude Flickinger to secure the plate. Gifts were exchanged and secret sisters were revealed. New sisters for the coming year were chosen. A solo, "Angels From the Realms of Glory," was sung by the Rev. Mr. Feeman, accompanied by Miss Eileen Hartlaub. The meeting closed with refreshments, in keeping with the holiday season, served to the group.

The next meeting of the society will be held Wednesday, January 9,

COMPROMISE ON LOYALTY OATH BILL IS SOUGHT

Harrisburg, Dec. 14 (AP)—A bi-partisan House committee Thursday tackled the job of composing disagreements over the long-disputed Pechan loyalty oath bill.

Rep. Charles C. Smith (R-Philadelphia), Republican floor leader, said no report is expected from the committee until next Monday.

The bill would require loyalty oaths by all state, county and municipal workers including school teachers. Controversy over its many features has split the ranks of both political parties.

Decide On Delay

The bill, already passed in the Senate, was scheduled for final House passage Wednesday but another delay was decided upon in an attempt to reach agreement between the two parties.

"We all want this bill to be in its proper form and we know by reaching such an agreement we will have a better bill," said Smith.

The committee, including three Republicans and three Democrats, was set up after the two parties failed to muster sufficient strength within their own ranks to take a unified stand.

Two-Party Committee

Members include Reps. Ivan C. Watkins, Schuykill; James N. Robinson, Delaware; Edwin W. Tompkins, Cameron, all Republicans; Hiram C. Andrews, Cambria; Harry Seyler, York, and Albert S. Readinger, Berks, all Democrats.

Smith's suggestions of appointing the committee was accepted by Andrews, Democratic floor leader, who agreed to hold off Democratic attempts to alter the much-amended bill once again. The measure was amended only this week to broaden court appeal rights of persons discharged for alleged subversive activities. Andrews had indicated attempts may be made to alter the amendments.

The bill, sponsored by Sen. Albert R. Pechan (R-Armstrong), is supported by state veterans organizations and by Gov. John S. Pine. Opposed to it are the state CIO, teachers groups, college instructors and civil rights organizations.

DISTINGUISHED NAMES

Rockford, Ill., Dec. 14 (AP)—Herbert Hoover and John D. Rockefeller soon will be in the army. Herbert E. Hoover, Jr., of DeKalb, Ill., enlisted yesterday at the Rockford recruiting office. Later, John D. Rockefeller applied for enlistment. Neither is related to the national figures for whom they are named.

THANK GOD FOR AMERICA

Mrs. Ida Nelson, 38 East Middle street, a daughter of a Union veteran, wrote the following poem with reference to the erection of a Lincoln statue in Lincoln Square:

Thank God for America
And our Lincoln Square
Let's us all join together
And make it a big affair.

Hundreds and thousands visit here each year
And leave with a smile and a cheer
Abraham Lincoln, the Great Emancipator
Leaves us with the Greatest Historical Square in the world today.

So we will place a statue in the Square
Then we can feel we have done our share
So we all can meet in the Sweet Afterwhile
Thank God for America.

Washington, Dec. 14 (AP)—The Defense Department has identified 80 additional battle casualties in Korea. A new list (No. 459) reported 11 killed, 40 wounded, 17 missing in action and 12 injured. It also listed two known dead who were previously reported missing.

Bitter Cold Hits North Central U. S.

(By The Associated Press)
The coldest weather of the season hit midwest areas Thursday with temperatures again dipping below zero in northern border states.

The cold air centered in the north central states but extended from the Dakotas eastward through the Great Lakes region. The sub-zero spots were in northern Minnesota, northwestern Wisconsin and most of North Dakota. Temperatures were around normal in other parts of the country.

It was 13 below zero at International Falls, Minn., Thursday after a high of -6 yesterday. At the same time it was -12 at Grand Forks, N. D.; -9 at Duluth, Minn., and -7 at Minot, N. D. The 8 above in Chicago was the lowest of the season. Lower readings were forecast for -6 Wednesday. At the east for most of the cold belt.

Snow flurries fell in the Great Lakes region and the Upper Ohio Valley, parts of the Dakotas and in the Northern Rocky mountain area. Fair to partly cloudy weather was reported in other sections.

FOREIGN VISITOR

Little Current, Ont. (AP)—For the first time in about 15 years an ocean-going freighter was tied up at this Manitoulin Island dock recently when the 2,500 ton Askot from Oslo pulled in to unload a heavy pulp-drying machine for a paper plant at Espanola. The Norwegian vessel continued on to Chicago.

ELECT TAYLOR

Harrisburg, Dec. 14 (AP)—Sen. M. Harvey Taylor (R-Dauphin) has been elected unanimously as president pro tempore of the Senate during the interim between the adjournment of the 1951 General Assembly and convening of the 1953 Legislature.

The president pro tempore's term normally ends with the closing of the Legislature session. Taylor has served three terms. He also is chairman of the state Republican committee.

Philadelphia, Dec. 14 (AP)—If the boss has applied to the Regional Wage Stabilization board for approval to pay a holiday or year-end bonus, the chances are you'll get it.

Dr. John Perry Horlacher, board chairman, said Wednesday the regional group had instituted a "speed up" system and "at the board meeting today all docketed cases dealing with holiday and year-end bonus payments were acted upon."

Canadian Commons Approves Seaway

Ottawa, Dec. 14 (AP)—The St. Lawrence Seaway—a 27-foot deep, 300-, 600,000 canal on the Canadian-American border that would open the Great Lakes to ocean shipping—won final approval Wednesday from Canada's House of Commons.

The bill now goes to the Senate, where passage is regarded as a formality. Both major parties—the ruling Liberals and the opposition Progressive-Conservatives—backed the bill in the House.

Under the bill, a crown company will be set up to go ahead with building the seaway even if the United States does not cooperate. The government hopes to have the job going by 1953.

Philadelphia, Dec. 14 (AP)—George C. Mulligan, ousted income tax collector, says the government "is using me as a political scapegoat" to help satisfy public demand for a cleanup in the Bureau of Internal Revenue.

The 41-year-old Mulligan was fired a week ago after he refused to resign as deputy tax collector in the Philadelphia office. He held the job for 13 years. He is one of 31 tax bureau employees discharged outright or asked to resign since November 27.

Mulligan denied all charges against him, asserting "I'm small stuff and I can't fight back as readily as the bigger boys."

He was accused of accepting fees and gifts from seven persons for helping them with income tax returns. Under the law, Internal Revenue collectors are forbidden to take fees or gifts for such services.

A new air service is expected to be and Tahiti. It will follow a route by way of Western Samoa and the Cook, operating soon between New Zealand Islands.

Success With Geraniums

Geraniums still predominate among indoor flowering plants. Yet many growers fail to attain the beauty of form, foliage and flower possible with this plant. Readers are urged to write the editor, enclosing a self-addressed, stamped envelope, for our simple geranium cultural directions. Of course, if there are questions on other indoor plants, you are invited to include them.
